City Motorists Asked to Back Safety Council

Dollar Memberships to Cut Greater Victoria Traffic Toll

The motorists of Victoria are going to be asked to invest $1 each to finance an educational campaign aimed at improving their own driving manners.

This much emerged from a pre-campaign meeting held last night by the newly-registered Greater Victoria Traffic and Safety Council.

Service station attendants of the city will be the men asked to distribute the greater portion of the membership cards and car stickers which the council has struck off for distribution when the campaign gets under way.

WIDE SUPPORT

The service station attendant's "sales talk" will be backed by the weight of the city's service clubs and many other organizations supporting the full-scale, long-range program aimed at cutting down the accident toll in the Greater Victoria district.

To assist him in overcoming buyer resistance the "salesman" will probably be armed with a leaflet setting forth the council's proposed return to the motorist for his dollar investment.

Heading the list may be a slogan pointing out that a dollar invested in a traffic safety campaign might save the investor's own life as increased courtesy and more conscientious observance of safety regulations make driving—and walking—on Victoria's streets, "a pleasure instead of a hazard."

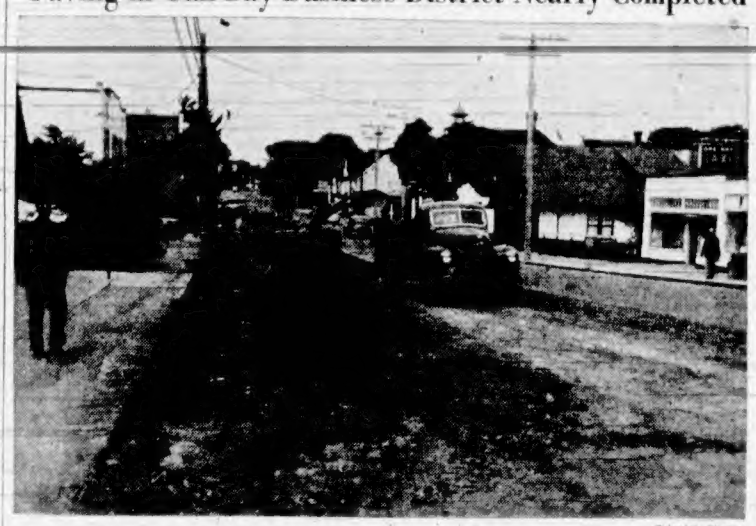

TENTATIVE DATE

Committees were named at last night's meeting to coin slogans and study distribution problems.

August 22 was set as tentative date for sale of first memberships in the traffic safety campaign.

Car stickers to be issued will feature a safety motto and the insignia of the Rotary Club which is sponsoring the 1949 safety program.

Paving in Oak Bay Business District Nearly Completed

—Colonist Photo.

Reconstruction of Oak Bay Avenue, between Foul Bay Road and Monterey Avenue, will be completed in about one week, A. S. G. Musgrave, Oak Bay municipal engineer, said yesterday. Above picture shows last section being completed near Monterey Avenue. Next work will be widening out of section down to old street car terminus.

Death Toll Rising In Ecuador Quake

City Virtually Wiped Out; Hurricane Swells Losses

QUITO, Ecuador, Aug. 5 (INS).—The earthquake toll in the Central Ecuadorean city of Ambato rose to 300 dead tonight with several hundred persons reported wounded.

A third tremor left hardly a house standing in Ambato, the country's fifth largest city, and fears rose that the casualty rate would be higher.

The towns of Aalcedo and Salcedo were reported hard hit by the three temblors that occurred within a period of two hours.

Simultaneously the area was hit by a hurricane which not only added to the list of hundreds injured but hampered communications and rescue work.

HELP ON WAY

Miguel Albornoz, secretary-general to the presidency, confirmed the extent of the catastrophe in a Government bulletin.

Private sources said that 60 percent of the houses in Ambato were totally destroyed.

The Government organized special columns to be dispatched to the disaster area. Private and social service groups took similar action.

Several hundred private cars left Quito for Ambato carrying beds, food and drugs to that city of 19,000 population.

President Galo Plaza Lasso, accompanied by several of his Cabinet, left Quito for the scene of the disaster.

Both the Peruvian and Argentine Government offered help in the form of food and drugs.

The Associated Press at Quito quoted a Government announcement issued from Guayaquil, Ecuador, as saying 40 persons, mostly soldiers, were killed when an army barracks building collapsed at Ambato. Collapse of a church also was reported to have buried a group of girls praying inside.

RIVER FLOODS

Other towns stricken included Latacunga, Pujili and Sqiaili, in the provinces of Cotopaxi and Tungurahua. Ambato's population is about 50,000, and that of Latacunga about 20,000. Panic and disorders were reported to be general.

An official bulletin said troops were directed to re-establish order and safeguard property in the stricken zones and along the Latacunga-Ambato highway.

In addition to the destruction caused to buildings, Ambato was flooded by waters from the debris-choked Ambato River.

BULLETINS

Seek Laborer

TORONTO, Aug. 5 (CP). Provincial Police said tonight they are seeking a farm laborer for questioning in connection with the slaying last Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKay.

They said the man is reported to have asked the couple to give him a ride from Minesing, 65 miles north of here, to Barrie, a distance of a few miles, last Monday night.

Fight 100 Fires

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 5 (AP). Parachutists and groundsmen today fought more than 100 forest fires in Montana, Idaho and Eastern Washington.

Cites Red Failure

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 5 (AP). Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today Communists tried but failed in a campaign to spread chaos and violence over India.

Scatter Rioters In Paris

PARIS, Aug. 5 (INS).—More than 3,000 helmeted police and battle-equipped French Security Guards today broke up a planned Communist demonstration against the visiting U.S. Chiefs of Staff.

Police, moving to quash the demonstration before it started, clashed with one shouting group of Communists outside Marshall Plan headquarters. They forced the Communists to scatter by pushing and shoving. No serious casualties were reported.

The United States chiefs had left Paris a few hours earlier after reportedly trying to persuade the French Chiefs of Staff to agree to a draft plan aimed at ending the French-British dispute on where to set up the Western European defence line.

DEFIED BAN

The U.S. military chiefs went to Fontainebleau after the meeting with the French chiefs and conferred there with Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Chief of the Western Union defence setup, and his commanders.

The Communists gathered in the Place de la Concorde despite a police ban.

Burly police and troops moved in quickly and ousted the demonstrators, who shouted, "Get out Bradley" (Gen. Omar Bradley) as they themselves were being ejected.

Red Drive Over Asia Now Widely Feared

LONDON, Aug. 5 (INS).—Officials of the British Foreign Office expressed doubt today that the American warning against Chinese Communist penetration of neighboring countries can halt a Red sweep into all of Southeast Asia.

Although the Foreign Office declined official comment, officials privately said that the non-Communist nations of Southern Asia have neither the arms nor the troops to halt a Chinese advance.

These sources said that the only hope is that the Communists will be satisfied to halt their progress when the conquest of China is complete and will use their energies in organizing the vast area already overrun.

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 5 (INS).—Nationalist political leaders warned today that the United States decision to bar aid to China will spur the invasion of Indo-China, Siam and Burma by Chinese Communists.

Officials of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang (Government) Party called the American White Paper on China a heavy blow to the Nationalist struggle against the Communists and warned it will bring new desertions to the foe.

WORST TIME

They also declared the White Paper could not have been issued at a worse time, since the Generalissimo has recently embarked on a drive to solidify Nationalist morale for the mounting struggle against Communist armies moving toward Canton, the capital.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 5 (INS).—Asiatic spokesmen at the United Nations declared today that vast areas bordering Russia from the Pacific to the Indian Ocean will fall to Communist domination in ten years unless America quits a "defeatist" policy.

These sources made their position known after release of the United States White Paper on China.

The majority verdict of the U.S. Government document in United Nations ranks was that it reflects on the whole "a confession of defeat" and the abandoning of China to the orbit of Russia.

The magnitude of the potential Communist menace to all Asia and in the long run to the Western Hemisphere was described by these sources as overshadowing by far the East-West struggle fought out in Europe under the Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact.

Some of the Chinese, Australians, Indians and others from the Far East lands who commented privately on the White Paper, concurred with Secretary of State Dean Acheson that full-scale intervention by Western armed forces in China would lead to war with Russia. But they disputed sharply the tone of "despair" they said they found in the White Paper.

Hand-Picked Soldiers Comb Bush for Slayer

TORONTO, Aug. 5 (CP).—Douglas Graham was shot and killed today—the sixth victim in nine days in an unprecedented run of slayings in the Toronto district. His 16-year-old son was charged with manslaughter.

The 36-year-old unemployed truck driver died under a tree near his suburban Etobicoke Township home.

Graham's son, Gordon, was remanded to August 9 when he appeared in court on the manslaughter charge.

SCOURING REGION

Meantime two Canadian Army officers and a squad of hand-picked investigators were sent to scour a heavy bush area near Bradford, 30 miles north of here, where residents reported hearing gunfire and seeing Robert and Gloria McKay before they were found slain.

A wealthy Toronto resident has offered $1,000 to start a $100,000 Citizens' Fund for the capture and conviction of the McKay slayer and the gunman who shot and killed Alfred Lang, 25, in an East-Central groceteria last Saturday.

In the latest homicide in Toronto's western suburbs today, police of Etobicoke Township said that young Graham shot his father with a .22 rifle he had received from his parents at Christmas.

"SHOT BY ACCIDENT"

The boy's mother told police Gordon shot his father by accident, unaware the gun was loaded.

She said her husband, "a very difficult man when he drank wine," went home about 2 a.m. today and switched on the radio, waking the family. The son protested and a scuffle followed.

She told police her son brandished the rifle and said "something about the gun not being loaded." There was "some sort of noise . . . and he (her husband) shot out of the door."

Unaware that he was seriously wounded, she said, she locked the door and told her son "We'll keep him out of the house until he sobers up."

CALLED NEIGHBOR

The elder Graham staggered about 60 yards from his frame-house and collapsed, then crawled another 40 yards to the home of Mrs. Annie Ramsay, 71, who called police and an ambulance.

Graham was dead when police arrived minutes later.

Group Rejects Czech Order To Defy Pope

PRAGUE, Aug. 5 (AP).—The Czech Government's order that priests must defy the Vatican decree of excommunication drew a defiant rejection tonight from Roman Catholic authorities in Western Bohemia.

The episcopal vicar (diocese administrator) at Litomerice replied to the order which threatened punishment if violated. His answer said in effect:

"We cannot read your signature. And what are you doing in a Catholic consistory interfering with the internal affairs of the church?"

IN WESTERN HANDS

Both documents—the order and the reply—have come into Western diplomatic hands.

Some two months ago the Communist ministry of education seized Roman Catholic Church consistories (administrative offices). The controlled Czech press claimed the action was necessary to halt the issuance of pastoral letters.

Meanwhile, in Prague, a prominent churchman said priests had been warned to beware of Communists who might come to them pretending to be Roman Catholics and seeking sacramental ministration.

This warning was put out, he said, after a supposedly Catholic-Communist woman denounced Father Alois Fajstl in court and had him sentenced to eight years in jail for high treason. He was accused of refusing to administer last rites to her until she surrendered her Communist Party membership card.

Canada Shares Atlantic Pact High Command

LONDON, Aug. 5 (CP).—A four-power high command is being planned for the Atlantic Pact defence system, diplomatic officials reported today.

They said the projected supreme defence council for the 12 pact countries would be run by the United States, Britain, Canada and France.

The Big-Four plan was said to be one of the main subjects brought up in discussions this week among the three touring United States chiefs of staff and army, navy and air force leaders of European pact members.

Diplomatic sources said Britain and Canada have given preliminary endorsement to the plan and that France is expected to agree in conferences going on today and Saturday in Paris.

Study Aircraft For B.C. Police

British Columbia Police are considering the purchase of an aircraft to be used by the provincial force in its law enforcement activities, it was indicated yesterday.

Commissioner John Shirras said police officials were discussing the possibility and suggested the plane may be secured "by the end of the year."

Accuses Russia Of Sell-Out Over Austria

BELGRADE, Aug. 5 (AP).—Yugoslavia today formally accused Russia of selling out Austria's Skvene Carinthians and of attempting to cover up the deal with slanders.

The Information Ministry made public a note sent two days ago to Moscow. In the note Yugoslavia amplified her previous statements denouncing the rejection by the recent Paris Conference of Big Four Foreign Ministers of Yugoslav war claims for a slice of Austrian territory.

The note denied and denounced a Soviet assertion that Yugoslavia carried on secret negotiations with Britain over future Austrian boundaries. On the contrary, it declared, Russia herself suggested that Yugoslavia seek an independent solution with the Western Powers on this point and subsequently was kept informed of the progress made.

Arrested

—Central Press Canadian.

Assistant United States Attorney Roy M. Cohn announced the arrest of Michael Maione, 38 (above), and said Maione is the leader of a million-dollar counterfeit ring that has flooded Eastern United States coast cities with counterfeit money totalling at least $1,000,000. Cohn said Maione's group also sold vast quantities of fake three-cent postage stamps, and added that two of Maione's top men are already in jail serving long terms for possession of counterfeit money.

Expect Chiang In Korea Today

CHINHAE, Korea, Aug. 6 (Saturday)—(INS).—South Korean President Syngman Rhee said today he expects Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to arrive this afternoon.

Mayor Voices Concern Over Tax-Revenue Loss

While expressing appreciation over the extension of Federal Government services here, Mayor George yesterday voiced concern that the additions to existing Crown property would deprive the city of tax revenue on valuable building sites in the downtown area.

The Federal Government recently awarded a contract for construction of a new Post Office and Federal Building on Government Street. It was announced this week that the Government would retain the Belmont Building, where many of its departmental offices are now located, as well as the old Post Office building.

"MUCH CONCERNED"

Dominion Government property is exempt from paying municipal taxes.

"I am very much concerned by the fact that we have three fairly large areas under the present set-up which deprives us of any income to offset the substantial services that the municipality is called upon to render these blocks," declared Mayor George.

He said he was particularly concerned that the Government had taken no action on a 1948 request of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities which called for institution of a system of grants to municipalities in lieu of taxes on Crown held property.

As a member of the Federation executive, Mayor George sat with a delegation which appeared before the Dominion Cabinet in November, 1948, to press the matter.

STILL WAITING

"We were assured, more or less, at this meeting by the then acting Prime Minister and his colleagues that they hoped to have some plan ready to present to us covering this matter at our 1949 convention," declared Mayor George. "We are still waiting for word from the Government."

The mayor said he felt it was time the Federal Government took some action to relieve the municipalities of the burden of servicing tax-exempt Dominion properties.

Riflemen Fail In Attempt To Kill Franco

MADRID, Aug. 5 (INS).—Another unsuccessful attempt was made on the life of Francisco Franco today by one or more riflemen who fired three shots at the automobile speeding the Generalissimo to his Summer seat of government at San Sebastian.

The latest assassination attempt was made as the Generalissimo's motor caravan, with Franco's armored car in the lead, left the town of Ponferrada.

Franco had stopped off at Ponferrada to officiate at ceremonies dedicating a new hydraulic power plant.

Reliable sources disclosed the shots were fired some distance from the road by a person or persons concealed in the rocky mountainside.

The attempt on Franco's life was the latest in a series going back almost to the time when he started his 10-year-old reign.

Recently bombs were found in Madrid and a few weeks ago a small bomb went off outside a Barcelona church which Franco had been scheduled to visit but did not.

German Bombs Go to Britain

German bombs, this time without their "blitz" effect are once again reaching Britain. Among hundreds of tons of scrap iron and steel being shipped daily from Berlin's western sectors are some of the defunct Luftwaffe's biggest block-busters. Here German workmen in Berlin use an acetylene torch to halve the shell of a two-and-a-half-tonner.

Army Engineers Constructing Road To Open Up Rich Atlin Mining Area

Construction is under way to provide access by road to Atlin, centre of one of the richest mining areas of British Columbia, Works Minister E. C. Carson said yesterday.

At present, Atlin, in the northwest corner of the province, is accessible only by air or, in Winter, by tractor train.

Mr. Carson said several mining companies are now doing development work and greatly expanded mining activity is expected when the road is completed.

ARMY-BUILT

The road will connect Atlin with the Alaska Highway at Jake's Corner (Mile 864.5) in the Yukon, a distance of 58 miles.

It will be constructed by the Royal Canadian engineers at the joint request of the Federal Department of Mines and the British Columbia Government. Part of the section inside the province has already been built. To complete it the province is making a grant of $200,000 and sets the specifications.

The Department of Mines and Resources at Ottawa is putting up $250,000 for 26.5 miles to be constructed in the Yukon.

COASTAL ACCESS

Under Brig. A. B. Connolly C.B.E., commander of the Northwest Highway way System, the work is intended to provide training for the army engineers in rough territory.

In addition to connecting Atlin with the main highway systems of the continent, the new link will also provide coastal access at Haines, Alaska.

In addition to many rich claims which have been staked in Atlin and left undeveloped because of lack of access for bringing in machinery and taking out ore, the Atlin area is rich in timber.

B.C. Polio Total Now Up to 84

Four more cases of poliomyelitis reported from Vancouver brought the total in the province to 84, the Provincial Health Department reported yesterday.

The total in Vancouver now stands at 63.

Work Starts Wednesday On Oak Bay Water Line

First work on Oak Bay's $90,000 plan for improved water supply, approved last December by the ratepayers, will start next Wednesday morning, A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer, said yesterday.

A fast-working shovel will start work at the end of Neil Street and work along Henderson Road towards Lansdowne Road. Twelve-inch mains will be laid along Henderson Road to connect up with the existing 12-inch main on Lansdowne Road.

WATER IN MONTH

New houses along Henderson Road will have water laid in a month, according to the engineer.

On completion of this section of the work, crews will start operations of a part of a $60,000 drainage scheme, approved several months ago by the ratepayers. First work will be installation of storm drains in the vicinity of Harlow Drive, Pacific and Estevan Avenues on the east side of the old exhibition grounds, the engineer explained.

Instead of following down the east side of the exhibition grounds, the drains will diverge to the west and follow the projected roads in the new Willows subdivision.

"It is planned to have a deep storm water drain right down the middle of the new subdivision. This will assure adequate drainage for the area. Prospective purchasers should not have doubts about the drainage. Basements will be able to be constructed three or four feet in depth," declared Mr. Musgrave.

A new hoist recently purchased by the municipality is expected to prove extremely helpful for both projects.

Australian Soldiers Will Work Selected Underground Mines

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 5 (Reuters).—Australian troops will work eight strike-bound underground coal mines as well as open-cast fields, it was announced today by the Fuel Minister, Senator William Ashley.

The mines have been idle for six weeks.

Eight mechanized mines in New South Wales had been chosen because they offered most favorable conditions to inexperienced operators, Ashley said. About 1,830 ex-servicemen would work the mines in two shifts, producing about 7,800 tons daily. He did not say when they would start.

16,000 TONS DELIVERED

Army Minister Cyril Chambers said today that about 16,000 tons of coal had been delivered at the railheads since troops began working open-cast fields.

Ashley's statement came amid widespread speculation on what course the Miners' Central Council will take at its meeting, Sunday. The council will consider a recommendation by delegates of the northern miners' lodges that mass meetings should be held to vote on whether the strike should end.

BACK TO WORK

The acting president of the Miners' Federation, R. Hamilton, said today he expected that the Central Council would agree to hold mass meetings. It would, however, advise the miners to consider their claims and the release of jailed union leaders instead of returning on the "unconditional surrender" terms proposed by the Australian Council of Trade Unions, he said.

More than 100,000 men, who are out of work in Australian industries dependent on coal, will be re-employed Monday owing to the successful work of soldiers.

Aims at Halt In Socialism

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP).—The big foreign recovery bill was delayed again today—this time by a Senate fight over an amendment designed to halt Socialism in Britain.

Just as a final vote appeared imminent Senator James P. Kem (R. Mo.) introduced an amendment to deny aid to any country which nationalizes in the future any of its basic industries.

Struck Firms Face Seizure

HONOLULU, Aug. 5 (AP).—Hawaii's Senate today passed a bill to permit Government seizure of seven struck stevedore firms in the territory's paralyzing 97-day waterfront walkout.

The Senate acted as Harry Bridges, president of the C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, arrived from San Francisco to see if it was "worthwhile to continue or, if necessary, to compromise" the strike.

The measure now goes to the House for final action.

Clues Gained In Robbery Of Aga Khan

NICE, France, Aug. 5 (INS).—Police said tonight that a witness to the holdup has identified the bandits who made off with $600,000 to $785,000 worth of jewels belonging to the wife of the Aga Khan.

This was the first lead to the gang that carried out the sensational holdup just outside the Aga Khan's villa Wednesday as he and his wife were motoring to the airport for an airplane trip to Deauville.

A "mystery woman" also was reported to have given police some valuable information but the identification of the bandits, believed to have been made by the Aga Khan's chauffeur, threw the police search into high gear.

The bandits were identified from photographs of known criminals. Police previously said they believed the bandits were Frenchmen.

Following the identification, the police were reported to have concentrated their search on Marseille underworld haunts where it was theorized the gang may have decided to hide out until the hunt cooled off.

Irish Author Says Island His Choice

MONTREAL, Aug. 5 (CP).—Canada is a better place to live than the United States, W. J. J. Herron, Irish author and playwright, said in an interview today.

The 37-year-old Princeton, N.J., graduate was returning to England aboard the liner Empress of France after a six-month tour of Canada.

Canadians are more relaxed, a more friendly people, he said. They are interested in one another and Canadians lead very personal lives.

He plans to write a book about his impressions of Canada and intends to come and live here as soon as Britain will allow him to take some of his money out of the country. Vancouver Island is his choice.

He added, however, that Canadians must develop a national myth to bolster their culture and life, and prevent the exportation of their best brains to the United States.

Statements Released Jointly By Cardinal, Mrs. Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt—at odds recently over Federal aid to education—joined tonight in issuing statements on the subject.

However, the statements were more in the form of a re-statement of positions rather than any step toward reconciling their divergent views.

Both statements were released at the chancery office of the New York Roman Catholic Archdiocese.

They followed a telephone conversation Thursday night between Cardinal Spellman and the widow of the late president.

Mrs. Roosevelt said the Roman Catholic Archbishop called her Thursday night "and asked me to go over a statement which he would like to release. I have read it and think it a clarifying and fair statement."

Cardinal Spellman again outlined what he described as the position of his church in the matter of Federal aid to education. He asked equal benefits for both public and Roman Catholic parochial schools in use of Federal funds for transportation and health services.

In her statement Mrs. Roosevelt reiterated that "I have no anti-Roman Catholic bias."

Earlier the Cardinal in a letter had accused Mrs. Roosevelt of anti-Catholic bias in her writings and said "I will not publicly acknowledge you again."

Sues for Cash Asserted Lost In Plane Crash

SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP)—An occupant of one of the homes destroyed July 17 in the crash of an Air Transport Associates, Inc., plane sued in Superior Court to recover money he said was lost in the wreckage.

George A. Cordas said the money included $1,870 in silver dollars, $650 in half-dollars, $694 in one roll of paper money, $500 in another and $1,250 in a third; $200 in Canadian bills, 300 pounds in English paper money and 600 pounds in one roll of Australian, New Zealand and English money.

Police Chief George D. Eastman said the department is holding an undetermined amount of money recovered at the crash scene.

ENGINE BACKFIRING

Several witnesses testified at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing yesterday that an engine of a C-46 transport was backfiring before it took off and crashed onto the roofs of South Seattle homes.

The parade of witnesses resumed today as the board pressed its investigation into the cause of the crash that killed seven persons.

"The engine did not sound normal to me," said Franklin S. Dearborn, photographic pilot for Pacific Aerial Surveys. "The backfiring continued after the plane left the ground."

Others of the day's 21 witnesses also said they saw the plane dip back to the runway after it was airborne.

Advertiser with an established fast-growing business in Victoria needs a silent partner with $2,500 for the purpose of expanding. Excellent dividends guaranteed. This is definitely worth investigating.

Miniature Mock War in North Swinging Into Air Action Today

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta., Aug. 5 (CP).—The bars are down tonight and Canada's miniature mock war known as Exercise Eagle swings into 1½ days of calculated and elaborately-scrutinized activity.

R.C.A.F. Mustangs and Harvards tangle late today in the air between here and Fort St. John, B.C., a space of some 100 miles, in a duel for the air supremacy that must be settled before army paratroopers can land at Fort St. John's airport at dawn tomorrow.

ASSAULT BY AIR

If the attackers from here don't lick the planes protecting the airborne "enemy" force that has seized the Fort's strategic base, then the umpires will say they have anyway. That will open the way for the assault by parachute, transport plane and glider of some 600 men of the airborne Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry led by Lt.-Col. Donald Cameron, D.S.O., a native of Cornwall, Ont.

The core of the exercise, involving more than 1,400 army and air force troops, is a check on the abilities of the air-ground forces Canada is training to cope with any diversionary enemy raid.

To watch it there has assembled a wealth of senior officers including one chief of staff, Dr. O. M. Solandt, of Defence Research, major-generals, brigadiers and R.C.A.F. equivalents, a small group of U.S. Air Force and Army observers and a few Britons.

DAY OF PREPARATION

Although the "enemy" theoretically seized Fort St. John, 50 miles up the Alaska Highway, last night, action was barred until 6 p.m. The Pats spent the day preparing their equipment, attending a church parade—they'll be too busy Sunday—and checking their $500 worth of parachute equipment and its counterparts.

The Air Force spent it in reconnaissance flights over the enemy area, in concentrating Edmonton, Vancouver, Saskatoon and Winnipeg Reserve flyers and practising such things as scrambles to meet enemy attacks on this airdrome.

Meanwhile, at Fort St. John, Sqdn. Ldr. John MacDonald, station commander, prepared his small forces to repel the attempt to disclose his "enemy" troops. He was doomed to lose in the final analysis because that's the way things are geared. But he has lots of chance to throw confusion into the attackers.

Beauchesne Leaves Post In Commons

OTTAWA, Aug. 5 (CP).—Prime Minister St. Laurent today announced the retirement of Dr. Arthur Beauchesne, 73-year-old clerk of the House of Commons.

Mr. St. Laurent said Leon J. Raymond, Liberal member for the Quebec riding of Gatineau, has been appointed Dr. Beauchesne's successor. Mr. Raymond automatically vacates his seat in the Commons, reducing Liberal representation to 192.

The Prime Minister also announced that J. Alfred Dion, Liberal member for the Quebec riding of Roberval, will be proposed by the Government as deputy speaker and chairman of committees in the Commons when the 21st session of Parliament opens September 15.

Mr. Dion succeeds W. H. Golding, former member for the Ontario riding of Huron-Perth, who was appointed to the Senate previous to the last Federal election.

Dr. Beauchesne's retirement, rumored for some time, comes after 24 years service as clerk of the Commons and 37 years as House of Commons official.

Russia Reports Sloop's Escape

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (AP).—Moscow newspapers today published their first stories of the Royal Navy sloop Amethyst's escape down the Yangtze River last Saturday.

The account quoted Chinese Communist General Yuan Chung-Hsien as saying the vessel took a Chinese ship with it as a hostage and later sank the Chinese ship, with the loss of several hundred lives.

Tax Multiplied by 100,000 Assessed By Communist Officials in Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Aug. 5 (AP). — A number of Shanghai property owners said today they were utterly unable to pay realty tax bills presented by Communist authorities.

The taxes are, in effect, 100,000 times greater than formerly.

To try to keep up with the wildly inflated Nationalist gold yuan, the Nationalists had assessed taxes on the 1948 basis multiplied by 100. The Communists have used this formula but are billing in Communist dollars. Since they have redeemed the old gold yuan at 100,000 to one Communist dollar, the effect is a tax multiplied by 100,000.

SCHOOL, CHURCH HIT

The American School in the old French Concession, which under the Nationalists was tax-exempt as an educational institution, has been billed for current and back taxes aggregating $76,000 U.S.

A foreign church in downtown Shanghai has been taxed the equivalent of $60,000 U.S.

The Shanghai Race Club property, which includes the track, stables and adjacent buildings, has been assessed present and back taxes aggregating $200,000 U.S.

These three have appealed to Communist authorities for relief. The American School and many other non-profit institutions have said they would close and try to liquidate if the taxes were not reduced.

Parliament Must Decide, Says Leopold

BRUSSELS, Aug. 5 (CP)—Self-exiled King Leopold tonight told the three main Belgian political parties that only Parliament could decide whether he should return to the throne.

The King said he rejected a proposal by the Socialists that if a referendum was held, he would have to obtain a two-thirds majority before returning to the throne.

The referendum should be held solely to determine public opinion. It should be left to Parliament to solve the problem, he said.

"If I thought that in resuming my prerogatives I should not be rendering a service to my country, I would abdicate in favor of my son and heir (Prince Baudouin)," the king added.

The dispute over the future of King Leopold, which has split the country for four years, was a central issue in the Belgian elections in June.

The Social Christians, supporting a return of the king, won a narrow majority in both Houses of Parliament but failed to gain the absolute majority necessary for them to take single-handed action on the Royal question.

Break Possible In Bus Strike

SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP).—A possible break appeared tonight in the seven-week strike on North Coast Greyhound Bus Lines.

Three union local meetings have been called to consider whether the latest company offer, terms undisclosed, should be submitted to a referendum vote of the membership.

The strike has tied up the state's north-south bus traffic.

South Korean Counter-Drive Repulses Reds

SEOUL, Aug. 5 (INS).—Southern Korean forces claimed today that a successful counter-drive has resulted in recapture of most of the Ongjin Peninsula points seized by invading North Korean Communist troops.

Between 4,000 and 6,000 Northern troops thrust across the 38th parallel boundary yesterday. Heavy fighting immediately broke out and admitted the loss of two infantry the South Korean Defence Ministry companies, yesterday.

The attack was the largest yet made on the Southern zone of Korea by Northern forces. Seoul observers puzzled over the relative ease of the Southern forces in repulsing the large Northern force, once the South recovered from its initial surprise.

City Firemen Stage Thrilling Rescue of Injured Workman

—Colonist Photos by W. Aitkin

New Record in Tourist Traffic Marked This Year by Victoria

A new record in tourist traffic to this city—23 per cent above a record set last year for the same period—was established over the first seven months of 1949, according to a report from the Victoria & Island Publicity Bureau.

Between the first day and July 31 of this year, customs officials here handled 22,530 cars bearing foreign licence plates. The vehicles carried a total of 63,954 passengers.

There has also been a substantial increase in the number of Canadian cars visiting this city and the Island—about 40 per cent above last year for the same period.

July was a busy month for the customs men. During that month alone they handled 11,067 foreign cars, carrying 32,951 persons.

The State of New Hampshire was the only one of the 48 not represented by visiting automobiles last month in this city. There were also cars from the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Alaska and Cuba.

As usual, California led the visiting car parade last month, sending 2,367 cars to this city. Washington cars here during July totaled 1,633.

The well-known constable is now en route to Ottawa to take part in the national rifle meet with Constable Robert Walker, Vancouver, and will be joined there by Inspector Jake Young, who won his way to the Bisley shoot in England.

At the Seattle meet, among other victories, Constable Gibault was the aggregate winner in the expert class for .22, .38 and .45 calibre events. The constable's victory in the .45 calibre events was considered outstanding because this type of gun is rarely used in Canada.

NEED PERMIT

Fire Chief Robert T. Brindle warned yesterday that persons installing oil burners or oil-burning equipment first must obtain a permit from the fire department.

"We have learned of several cases where oil burners have been installed without permits. I must warn that further infractions of this kind will result in court action," declared Chief Brindle.

He explained that the regulation is laid down for the protection of the public, and those breaking the ruling are endangering themselves. Permits can be obtained by going to the fire department and filling out a special form, he said.

Rigid inspection of oil burner installations, he stated, will safeguard against faulty workmanship. Permits only cost $2, $3 and $4, a small amount when compared with the amount of damage a bad fire can cause, Chief Brindle advised.

Thomas Welch, Victoria old-timer who died here recently at the age of 80 after a lifetime of service in the Imperial armed forces and in civilian jobs in Canada, once served in the Royal Navy when the late King George V was a midshipman in the same naval unit, it was recalled here yesterday.

Mr. Welch came to Canada in 1887 and to Victoria in 1920.

He was a 32-degree Mason and a member of 50 years' standing in the order.

Firemen Gamble 15 Minutes With Disaster in Rescuing Man

City firemen took a 15-minute gamble with disaster yesterday to bring down a stretcher bearing a severely injured workman down a fully-extended 85-foot aerial ladder.

The injured man, Harold Harrison, 33, 1145 North Park Street, was badly hurt when a ladder on which he was working in the course of a dangerous repair job on the towering roof of Christ Church Cathedral, slipped, causing him to plunge 20 feet to a lower roof.

The aerial ladder truck squad under command of Deputy Fire Chief Phillip N. Guy and Captain Howard Carter reached the scene a few minutes after receiving an SOS call from Constables Alex Nichol and Jack Perry of city police.

STAIRWAY IMPOSSIBLE

The police phoned in the hurry-up call when it was discovered that it would be impossible to get a stretcher down the cathedral's narrow spiral stone stairway.

Harrison was treated at the scene of the accident by Dr. E. L. McNiven and later at Royal Jubilee Hospital. Authorities said that he suffered a broken right wrist, fractured left kneecap, fractured nose and facial cuts, in the fall.

A foreman on the cathedral job for the plumbing and sheet metal firm of Griffin & Orpwood, Harrison was alone at the time of the accident.

According to Harrison's fellow workman, Larry Humphries, a last minute repair job to a jammed window led to the mishap.

WORKED TWO WEEKS

Previously the two men had spent almost two weeks crawling on the roof of the massive church high above the ground, without incident.

Yesterday Harrison had gone back to work on the window just under the church's topmost roof. He was on his way down the ladder, the job completed, when the near-fatal slip occurred.

If he had fallen inward through the window he would have plunged to the floor of the church 80 feet below.

Worried firemen sweated it out over a full 15 minutes inching the injured man's stretcher down the precipitous length of the aerial ladder to a waiting ambulance.

HEROIC SHIFTS

Working in heroic shifts Fireman Jack Barnes and Nick Harris struggled with the upper end of the stretcher, lifting it down the ladder a painful rung at a time.

Lower end of the stretcher was handled by Firemen Jack Gillies and Alf Adamson. The rescue ladder was operated by Percy Graves.

At one point in the steep descent the stretcher was carefully halted while a rope sling was improvised. The sling was passed over the shoulders of the man supporting the upper end of the stretcher so that he could put his back into the lift and relieve weary forearms.

A first attempt to reach the injured man failed when the 85-foot ladder came to rest a few feet below the roof on which he was lying.

LIFT CAR AWAY

A car that was parked in the spot needed by the fire truck if the rescue was to be effected speedily, was literally lifted out of the road by firemen, police and spectators when the driver could not be found immediately.

Meanwhile Desk Sergeant Roy Woolsey at city police station had his hands full trying to find enough men to cover the spectacular cathedral rescue plus two other emergency calls that came in minutes later.

Summer School Ends For 1,300 Teachers

Summer School ended yesterday for some 1,300 British Columbia teachers at Victoria High School.

Examinations yesterday afternoon, followed by a dance at the Sirocco last night, marked the close of the session.

Sixty-one courses, including 12 new ones, were offered during the five-week term.

Largest classes, numbering from 140 to 155 in each, were in principles of elementary education, remedial education and language arts.

POPULAR COURSES

Among the most popular were courses in personality adjustment and in home, school and community relations given this year for the first time by J. F. K. English, muncipal inspector of schools.

Results of examinations are expected to be known early next week and will be mailed to teachers in alphabetical order.

A two-week school principals' conference, attended by 100 persons, was an outstanding feature of the Summer session.

Two demonstration classes, one for kindergarten and one for intermediate grades, work on a double-shift basis for the benefit of more than 80 teachers registered for the kindergarten class.

REGINA, (CP)—Mopping his brow in the Summer heat, Patrick Mulligan of Dublin, Ireland, brought a wee reminder of Christmas from the old country recently. Sure, and wasn't he selling orders for Christmas pudding among the local shops.

Token Federal Help for P.G.E. Is Beginning

BRITISH Columbians will welcome the assurance of Prime Minister St. Laurent that Parliament will be asked to grant $1,200,000 towards the cost of extending the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Prince George, but are apt to hope that the assistance from the Dominion will not stop there. Far greater support was given to the Churchill railway in times when the dollar went twice as far as today it does. However, even if the Federal grant, when authorized, should only cover the cost of the 900-foot viaduct over Cottonwood Canyon, as may well prove to be the case, it will be taken as a token of the Dominion's interest in a project which has national implications.

Premier Johnson is the latest of a succession of British Columbia Government leaders who have taken this case before Ottawa. That he is returning home with some definite assurance of help, even at the nominal rate of $15,000 a mile, will be encouraging to him and to his Cabinet colleagues. There remains to be settled the matter of the lumber assembly wharf at Squamish, with which the Dominion has been asked to help.

Even with this assistance, British Columbia has a stiff task ahead of it to carry the P.G.E. north from Quesnel to Prince George, where it would link with the C.N.R.; and to close the 40-mile gap between the head of Howe Sound and Vancouver. The original estimate of $10,000,000 for these two links was probably optimistic, as the first tenders called on actual rail construction appear to indicate. When Parliament comes to study the case, the wisdom of bettering Canada's rail and other links with the Northwest should be given due weight. Not British Columbia alone but also all Canada is concerned in the opening up of this territory, rich in virgin natural resources.

Cost of Living Continues to Rise

JUNE'S cost-of-living index announced this week from Ottawa has dispelled hopes held earlier that some approach to stability in Canadian prices and the economy of the country generally would be made this year. Far from leveling out, the graph turned sharply upward once again, to show the largest increase for several months and place the consolidated cost index at the highest point it has ever reached, 162.1.

With the announcement of the new index came glib references by the Bureau of Statistics to "normal" seasonal advances in food prices. Since when has it been normal for food prices to rise by almost four and a half points in the flush of early Summer? By June Canadian production has reached a high level, and if an increase like that is to be regarded as normal it is not a happy augury for householders when Winter comes.

It is food prices that hurt most, accounting for 31 per cent of the total index. The food sub-index now stands at 207.2, which means that it takes more than a dollar to put on the table food that fifty cents would buy before the war. The public had been forewarned to expect an increase in the rent index, but if looks as if the rise in the food graph took even the statisticians by surprise, and it is only since completion of the June index that there has been this talk about "normal" increases.

The consolidated index is something more than a line on a chart showing how much more it costs to live now than in 1939. It has become a basic factor in wage negotiations, and the disturbing aspect of this latest increase is that it may retard still further the hoped-for achievement of stability in wage levels.

Tito's Nationalism Threat to Stalinism

WHILE Marshal Tito's current quarrel with Moscow does not incline him one iota towards the Western viewpoint of things, it presents an intriguing, perhaps even comforting, aspect. The chief menace that Communism holds for the world derives from its centralized direction, which makes the pattern all of a piece, as the recent Canadian Seamen's Union strike amply made manifest. Anything that might impair the homogeneity of Soviet-inspired philosophy might be considered as a hopeful augury.

Yugoslavia is in disfavor with Moscow because she has in some respects at least evolved a brand of Communism of her own, geared to the national desires of Marshal Tito. As a world movement Communism would lose much of its force were satellites to rewrite the Communist handbook to suit their own needs. The more successfully Yugoslavia manages to free herself from Stalinism, the more some other of the Balkan Communist states might be tempted to follow her example. This, naturally, does not suit the Moscow book-at-all, hence the threats that induce Tito to warn his troops against possible Russian attack.

Marshal Tito's break with Moscow represents of course a main split in the Cominform, and conceivably it could imply grandiose notions on his part as a world Communist leader rivaling his mentor Stalin. Neither that nor his present intransigence suggests that the Western world can hope to regard him with friendly eyes, but at least the more he quarrels with Moscow the better. The emergence of national Communism in satellite countries at the expense of world-wide Moscow control could not but seriously weaken the common Communist front and thus benefit the Western cause.

"The United States Now Has Delicate Relations With Russia, Britain and the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The Debt We Owe

By FRANK M. KELLEY

RECENTLY the people of Canada were reading in their daily papers about certain days in France and, more particularly, of what happened on and off the beaches of Dunkirk. Graphic drama was enacted there and will furnish historians of the future with much to add to the already long list of accomplishments the British people have recorded since their volumes of history began to be written.

Weighing the facts without prejudice, as they are supposed to do, those historians will appreciate that British men and women of the time exhibited the same redoubtable spirit as was possessed by their ancestors in times of peril throughout the ages whenever their right to existence was challenged. Their valor was tremendous between 1939 and 1945, worthy of the grandest traditions of a great race.

It is but right their deeds should be recalled, and the memory of what was accomplished kept green. If it really was Britain's "darkest hour," the men who carried her colors on the retreat through France did not know the meaning of despair. It is all worth remembering; for the blood that was spilled there and the tears subsequently shed as a result, undoubtedly saved a hemisphere from invasion, bombing and possible conquent.

THIS CONTINENT IN DANGER

One cannot help but appreciate the danger this continent would have been in had it not been for the heroic stand of the Britishers at the edge of the Channel. Had Britain surrendered there it would have been the "darkest hour" for America—I mean North America. Instead, this country and the United States were given the chance to get ready, saved a vast amount of cash, the horrors of invasion, destruction of property and a conqueror's interpretation of liberty. Had that heroic effort failed there was nothing to halt Nazi plans for the subjugation of the British Isles and a more ambitious scheme for the conquest of America.

Twice in our time America—Canada, the United States and Mexico—have been saved from bombardment, invasion and degradation at the hands of militant-minded madmen. The men who bared their breasts to all the implements of destruction fashioned for their undoing were English, Scots, Welsh and some Irish. And they did a great job, enabling America to prepare her forces for offence and defence and enable her to go on and "win the war."

POURED OUT BLOOD, TREASURE

Britain's effort in blood and treasure made it possible for Canada and the United States to be saved the horrors Europe, or portions of it, suffered. She gave freely of both to that end. Cold-bloodedly, it seems her position in the North Atlantic has always been looked upon as a rampart against a Europe that might envisage conquest of the Western Hemisphere. The "tight little islands" would have to be hurdled first and were first-line insurance for America.

Helping to make the world a desirable place for folk to dwell in Britain has stood in the breach and protected America for a long time. Her blood and treasure were poured out without "penny-pinching" in 1914-18 and 1939-45, making it possible for Canada and the United States to attain power and wealth. Under all the circumstances, now that the British people are in a bad way financially because of their sacrifices, would it break the economy of Canada and the United States if purses were opened so that Britain could regain her financial feet? Even if the price might be great, it would still fall far short of an equitable adjustment considering what she has done for us all. Or do we care what happens to the British Isles, without which it may certainly not be the same in the future? It will not be charity to help, only justice.

The Aged Come First

By RAYMOND MOLEY

SANTA BARBARA, Cal.—California's easy system of initiating and voting on constitutional amendments produced in 1948 one of the most fantastic laws in the history of the state. An old-age pension group fathered a long addition to the basic law of the state, which purported to enact in permanent form the state's policies toward the aged. Provisions for the blind were included, probably because they would draw additional votes from those who recognize a real claim for people thus afflicted.

The amendment increased the maximum aid to the aged from $60 to $75 a month; dropped the age requirement from 65 to 63; made expenditures for old-age assistance a first claim on the revenues of the state; removed the administration of the act from the counties to the state; and, under the guise of eliminating politics, made the administrator of the system an elective office.

Perhaps to the student of oddities in government, the most unusual and indefensible part of the amendment is a provision actually naming the person to be the first administrator of the act. Such a perversion of governmental practice would be unconstitutional almost anywhere. But since this provision became part of the constitution itself, there was little to do about it.

* * *

The amendment provided for an increase in aid to the blind from $75 to $85 a month.

The cost of this measure was estimated in Governor Warren's budget to be about $120,000,000 for the first year and a half of its operation. In succeeding years the amount would be bound to increase because of the accumulating elegibility of the hundreds of thousands who have moved into the state since 1940.

The amendment also removed from relatives all real legal compulsion to contribute to the support of their elders. This presumably makes the Fifth Commandment of Moses mean honor without support.

In the confusion of the presidential campaign, there was little chance to debate this issue last year, and the amendment carried.

Since this preferred charge on the treasury was an inevitable squeeze on the schools and the teachers, as well as on other hitherto legitimate responsibilities of the state, growing opposition has developed, and a new amendment has been proposed which would repeal many of the more objectionable provisions of the 1948 amendment.

The new proposal will be voted upon this November. It will be a hard fight to pass the repealer, but its success may be brought about because of the activity of teachers' organizations, associations for aid to the blind which were discriminated against in the present law, business and taxpayers' groups and others.

This eternal battle at the polls over measures which should be left to the discretion of responsible bodies is the bitter fruit of a movement, 40 years ago, which was supposed to give the government back to the people. Government has not been returned to the whole people by the initiative and referendum. It has been returned only to those minority groups whose special interests promote the unceasing energy necessary to by-pass a majority that is not always on its guard.

Some city dwellers who itch to get away in the country for a holiday are itching from mosquito bites when they return. . . . Many a person who is so scrupulously honest that he will walk back several blocks to a grocery store to return 5 or 10 cents believes it is perfectly legitimate to endeavor to cheat the government on his income tax return. . . . From a speech of United States Senator Harry F. Byrd: "New taxes may easily accelerate a minor business decline into a major recession. Business is never more sensitive to new costs and taxes than it is on a declining market. There is reason to expect that state, municipal and county deficits may come simultaneously with federal deficits. Reduction in federal expenditures can be accomplished only if there is a desire and a will to do it. Actually we are assuming tremendous long-term expenditure commitments with little appreciable inclination for any offsetting retrenchment, or even for token reduction. There must be a public demand for retrenchment which cannot be denied by a bureaucracy raised on years of excessive spending, a bureaucracy which knows and practices the tricks of buying off such a demand with more spending. Those who are responsible for our profligacy must leave a place in their consciences for the consequences of their deeds." . . . Accepting a man's own estimate of his achievements is fraught with doubt. Hitler little thought his yacht was his only creation that would survive . . . A track meet is the only place where a man can get ahead by running around in circles . . . Maurice Maeterlinck wrote: "Happiness is rarely absent. It is we who know not its presence."

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

WHEN a highway is improved, it generally loses its character. That is something the engineers ought to pause and consider. Improvement, in the eyes of science, means to make more efficient. But nobody seems to ask for whose benefit the efficiency is conceived.

More efficient for truck driver, yes. More efficient for the employers of truck drivers, yes. But there are great numbers of people in the world who think more of the going than of the getting there. Millions who enjoy the journey more than the goal. Of course, for them there are always the side-roads, the back roads. The highways are being dedicated more and more to the sort of people who have no interest whatever, in a journey, but merely want to get from one place to another as fast and efficiently as possible.

This is probably all very well, and in keeping with the times. But the danger is that a great many otherwise decent, easy-going people are likely to be converted to the religion of efficiency, speed and haste. You put a simple, human, natural person on a highway often enough, and something is going to happen to him. The bug of efficiency is going to get him. He is going to join the race to get there with all the rest of the truck drivers and employers of truck drivers. And what is he going to find when he gets there? Just whatever it is that truck drivers and the employers of truck drivers find.

Forty years ago, nobody would have believed that science and engineers could have converted the whole human race into an efficient body. But it begins to look as if the miracle is half wrought already. To sit on the side of a highway and watch the miracle pelting madly by—taut, tense, eager, intent—is to give you a good guess as to what the world is going to be like in twenty years. It will be next to impossible to find a good, lasy, inefficient, happy human being of the old-fashioned image God made.

POST OFFICE SITE

Sir,—From time to time Ottawa sends up a town-planning expert to remind us that the sins of the fathers ought not be tolerated, in so far as town-planning is concerned.

Yet when an honest-to-goodness opportunity presents itself to eliminate the worst bottle-neck in Victoria, apparently nothing is done about it.

The new Post Office on Government Street is to be edged in by the Bank of Montreal and the narrow section of View Street.

This is not town-planning, it is town-jamming

HELPING THE TOURIST

Sir,—Victoria has plenty to sell our visitors in the way not only of goods but interesting places to see and its lovely climate, and the proof is the fact that after spending about 2½ years traveling in many parts of the word, Mrs. Scott and I selected it for a place to settle permanently.

Any business firm would go broke if they spent all of their money attracting customers to their store, then did not see that they made permanent customers of them, for it is only the repeat business that pays off in advertising.

The Tourist Bureau does a good job with the money it spends, as evidenced by the thhousands of visitors that some here every month; but it is a fact that all of the money they get is spent on attracting the visitors here, and they have little or none left to spend on such things as a printed folder listing the current attractions of the week, so that it could be distributed widely and every visitor gets one. It was only last week that they started issuing a mimeographed form which is very cheap looking and clumsy; but it is something. Why not give the Tourist Bureau enough money to finish the good job they are doing, for after a number of talks with Mr. Geo. Warren I am convinced they could do it if they had a little more to work with.

The garden visits are a case in point, for it was only after I had made very urgent requests that I was able to get these garden visit dates published by the Tourist Bureau, because they had little money to spend for this kind of thing.

Let's spend a little more money to make sure our visitors see all of the things they are told Victoria and Vancouver Island have to offer in the very attractive folders that are given them before they arrive here.

Let's tell them where to find these places and interesting spots, and they will spend more time in our city, spend more money, and go away much more satisfied than many of them do now.

AN EPOCH—A DAY

Sir,—With reference to recent letters regarding the age of the planet and its creation, calling a day merely an "epoch of time," it must be remembered when Moses received the Commandments on Mt. Sinai, nearly 4,000 years ago, God signified to him the days of Creation to be six periods of time, corresponding to a day of certain planetary revolutions as time was reckoned; the seventh of which was to be a day of rest, and which has come down to us through the ages.

Exodus xx reads: "Remember the Sabbath, day to keep it holy. . . . For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day; wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day and hallowed it."

Pied Beauty

Glory be to God for dappled things—
For skies of couple-colour as a brindled cow;
For rose-moles all in stipple upon trout that swim;
Fresh-firecoal chestnut-falls; finches' wings;
Landscape plotted and pieced—fold, fallow, and plough;
And all trades, their gear and tackle and trim.
All things counter, original, spare, strange;
Whatever is fickle, freckled—who knows how?—
With swift, slow; sweet, sour; adazzle, dim;
He fathers-forth whose beauty is past change:
Praise Him.

This "Horrible Thing"

(From The Halifax Chronicle-Herald)

AS a Quebec judge sees it, drunken driving is "a horrible thing." The judge was dealing with the case of a professional man whose car "raced wildly through a suburb, struck a fire hydrant, tore the front balcony off a house, smashed a telegraph pole, struck a bystander, and came to rest after overturning three times."

Within twenty-four hours the bystander was dead.

Yet, as The Ottawa Journal remarks, "for such antics in an apparently residential area the law provides a penalty of only 30 days in jail and licence-suspension" and "considering that people can be given 30 days for stealing a few cents worth of property, there was little wonder that the judge found the penalty provided by statute inadequate."

Drunken driving is prevalent—and a steadily-growing menace—because of the leniency of the laws and the lawmakers. No matter how a judge or magistrate may view this "horrible thing", he is powerless to impose anything more than a comparatively minor penalty.

The result is that people are driving about the country breaking the liquor laws, with bottles of liquor open in their cars, drinking in their cars, drinking outside their cars, getting "tight" or "half-tight" and then getting behind the wheel of upwards of two tons of steel capable of going 100 miles an hour and setting it in motion on the public thoroughfares. Some go to parties and dances, knowing they will be drinking, and take their cars with them.

And frequently this "horrible thing" comes to pass.

It requires no brains—merely a heavy foot—to drive a motor vehicle down the middle of the road at sixty and seventy miles an hour. And when to this are added liberal "shots" of intoxicants, the menace becomes deadly and terrible. Is is, in fact, the most deadly and terrible man-made menace in this land today.

Are the law-makers satisfied with their laws? Do they sleep peacefully at night knowing that their leniency is contributing to the encouragement of this "horrible thing"?

U.S. White Paper Blasts Nationalists of China

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP).—The Truman Administration today publicly abandoned all hope of saving China from the Communists and aiding its Nationalist Government.

In an unprecedented blast, it labeled that Government as a dismal failure in the war against Communism.

Instead of aiding it, the Administration laid down a policy of encouraging the Chinese people to throw off the "foreign yoke" of a Red regime which, State Secretary Acheson charged, serves Russian imperialism.

The new turn in United States policy was announced in a letter from Acheson to President Truman, presenting him with the long-awaited White Paper on American relations with China. It was amplified in a statement which Acheson made to a press conference.

"BASIC PRINCIPLES"

In the statement, Acheson laid down five "basic principles" for United States relations with China, with emphasis on rebuilding "an independent" Chinese nation.

Truman had endorsed the Acheson letter at his won press conference yesterday and there was no doubt that it represented the considered views of the Administration. It accepted the Communist conquest of China as an accomplished fact. Acheson argued that the Nationalists are militarily incapable of blocking the forward march of the Red armies into those areas of China which they do not yet actually control.

But, Acheson said in his statement, he does not at all share in "the defeatist attitude" of some. Rather, he sees the Communists extending themselves without being sure of their strength or of the reactions in store for them in China and elsewhere.

AID NOT LACKING

The Secretary wrote Truman that the Communist regime might try to attack China's neighbor countries in line with "aims of Soviet Russian imperialism."

The 1,054-page official record of Chinese-American relations is probably without parallel in United States diplomatic history for its criticism of another friendly Government. It bluntly blamed China's fall to Communism on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and other Chinese Nationalist leaders. It said their unwillingness to win popular support for their leadership was the root cause of their "failures."

No battle was lost by the Nationalists for lack of American aid, Acheson told the President in his letter. This aid, since the end of the war, has totaled more than $2,000,000,000, he reported.

Brooklyn Teen-Age Travelers Visit Victoria

—Colonist Photo

A party of some 35 teen-age Brooklyn girls passed through Victoria yesterday during the course of a tour of Canada and the United States which has taken them as far south as San Diego and will take them across Western and Central Canada and the Great Lakes. A group of the youthful travelers is shown above. From left to right they are Naomi Berbowitz, Alberta Shapiro, Fran Vogel, Joan Feldgorse, Dr. S. J. Bernhard, tour director and chaperone; Sharon Berman, Phyllis Silver, Suzanne Freeman and Lela Herzfeld. Dr. Bernhard said Teen Tour was financed by parents of girls. Tour began in New York City July 6 and is scheduled to extend over 6½-week period. Purpose of tour is to acquaint young people with both United States and Canada. Dr. Bernhard said similar tours were organized annually. Another group of younger girls and boys from New York State will pass through city today.

"New" Policy for China "Vague, Generalized"

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

As expected, the State department's "White Paper" on China is merely an explanation of past American policy.

Secretary Acheson's letter submitting the report to the President is described as an approach to new policy, but it is vague and generalized, a statement of desires rather than an outline for action.

He says:

"Ultimately the profound civilization and the democratic individualism of China will reassert themselves and she will throw off the foreign yoke. I consider that we should encourage all developments in China which now and in the future work toward this end."

NO CONCRETE STEP

If the Chinese Communists become a weapon for Russian aggression—presumably either political or military—in other areas of the Orient, the United States should join in their defence, the secretary suggests. But no concrete step, such as a Pacific pact or other organization or anti-Communist forces, is described.

Rather, it is proposed that developments shall be handled through the United Nations.

In other words, the policy is still wait and see. Whether it may take a more definite turn when Dr. Philip Jessup and his special board have completed a policy study, now under way, likewise remains to be seen. Actually, the White Paper emphasizes what seems to be an almost impossible situation from the anti-Communist standpoint.

FACT DELAYED

Measures of containing Communism along China's periphery are possible. For China herself, the only solution would seem to be [illegible] the world's non-Communist forces are totally unprepared, and which would lead almost certainly to a third World War, from which everyone turns away in horror.

The United States has not refused a Pacific pact, but merely declines to consider it now, or until there is some show of solidarity in the area itself. The idea for a Pacific union being promoted by the presidents Quirino of the Philippines, Syngman Rhee of Southern Korea and the now somewhat ghost-like Chiang Kai-shek is a germ, but Chiang's participation as the leader of a phantom government which long ago lost the support of its people will not strengthen it in American minds.

Only when there is a stable government in Indonesia, and India has taken the lead which is naturally hers, will such a projec be able to demand Western support.

Camp Sending Slave Labor To Russia

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP).—The Sachsenhausen concentration camp near Berlin is being used as a depot to provide Soviet Russia slave laborers, Mrs. Erika Raeder said today.

The wife of the former German Grand Admiral was released from the camp a month ago after four years as a prisoner of the Russians and now is in Western Germany.

"Everey two months big transports of people who were being punished for something left Sachsenhausen for Russia," she said in an interview.

"There were usually 2,000 people to each transport. They were not all Germans, either. A large number of them were Russians who had broken some rule."

LIFE TERM

The Admiral's wife is 61. Raeder is serving a life term on a war crimes charge in the Four-Power Spandau prison here.

Mrs. Raeder was shuttled from one Secret Police jail to another until she wound up in Sachsenhausen, an infamous camp established by Hitler's S.S. (elite guard) but continued in operation after the war by the Soviet military administration.

She never was struck. To her knowledge, the Russians never beat prisoners, she said.

Instead they quizzed them on such odd subjects that the prisoners became frightened, thinking themselves in the hands of madmen, she said.

U.S. Officials Foil Smuggling Attempt

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP).—United States arms authorities at Bremmerhaven today seized an Israeli freighter which they said was being loaded with $1,000,000 worth of illegally-consigned machinery.

An army announcement identified the ship as the Drommit, flying the Israeli flag. Her owners were not immediately identified.

The fraudulently-documented machinery was labeled as "household goods" of Jewish immigrants to Palestine, the announcement said. Army officials called the smuggling attempt "the biggest ever discovered" at the American occupation port.

Move to Investigate Forced Labor Postponed in Stormy U.N. Session

GENEVA, Aug. 5 (AP).—An American-supported move for investigation of forced labor in the world was postponed today by the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

The decision came at a stormy session during which Amazasp Arutiunian, Russian delegate, was called down sharply by James Thorn, New Zealand delegate and council chairman, for using such words as "slander and lies."

The United States had offered a resolution calling for a joint U.N.-International labor organization inquiry into slave labor conditions. But the council voted 10 to five for a Danish-Brazilian-Indian amendment which removed the operative clauses and turned the questions back to the United Nations Secretary-General.

The Secretary-General was instructed to "request governments which have not as yet stated they would be prepared to co-operate in such an impartial inquiry to consider whether they, before the next session of the council, can give a reply to that effect." This would postpone further council action for at least six months.

The Soviet Union, which has been accused of operating a massive forced labor program, is the most important state which has not agreed to an "on-the-spot" investigation.

Many delegates said that without Russian permission for an inquiry in the U.S.S.R., there is no point of making an investigation.

The postponing amendment was opposed by the United States and supported by Britain, Russia, Poland and White Russia abstained.

Today's session was the stormiest since the United Nations moved some of its activities into the old League of Nations home here.

The argument between Arutiunian and Thorn, New Zealand High Commissioner to Canada came as the former started a speech lasting an hour and 45 minutes. In it the Russian defended the Soviet penal system and denounced "forced labor" in the United States and in the British colonies. Thorn broke in at the first mention of "slander and lies" by Arutiunian.

"The use of such words as slander and lie should not be permitted in this council," Thorn said. "They convey insults. I don't believe there are any liars or slanderers here in this council."

Arutiunian attempted to shout the chairman down, but Thorn continued his ruling: "It is time I asserted my authority to see that this debate is conducted in an orderly manner."

Three Children Die in Blaze

GANANOQUE, Ont., Aug. 5 (CP).—Three children were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a three-family residence in this Thousand Islands resort town, 20 miles east of Kingston.

Dead are: Gloria Running, three; Agar Running, four, and Wilma Running, ten.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orange Running, were critically burned rescuing nine other children from the blazing home.

Firemen were told that Mrs. Running was first to notice the fire which broke out while most of the children were still asleep.

Fined $25 On Charge

Jack Plant, 1850 Glanford Avenue, was fined $25 and had his driver's licence suspended for three months by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a careless driving charge.

Constable Lyle Somers laid the charge against Plant July 30 when the accused was involved in a side-swiping collision on Gorge Road between Jutland Road and Rock Bay Avenue.

Ella Bullivant, 926 Johnson Street, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting Micheline Fevang and occasioning her actual bodily harm on Wednesday. She was remanded to next Wednesday for trial, and after court laid a common assault charge against the complainant.

Interference With Police Proves Costly

VANCOUVER, Aug. 5 (CP).—It isn't wise to interfere with a policeman.

Harvey Moore, 45, chairman of Mayfair United Church board of stewards in Saskatoon, today was fined $10 by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson.

He was charged with interfering with a policeman who had arrested a drunk.

Moore claimed the officer had an arm lock on the drunk, and told the court "any Christian gentleman" would have interfered.

He also charged that he had seen a policeman hit a prisoner in jail.

"You are trying to prejudice the court," Magistrate Matheson told him. He added Moore had been "sticking his nose in where he shouldn't."

Tooth Cavity Vanishes When New Paste Used

OTTAWA, Aug. 5 (CP).—Need a tooth filled? Just use some of the paste invented by Dr. D. F. Stedman of the National Research Council and in a couple of months the cavity will disappear. Anyway, that's what the doctor says.

The Canadian Army Dental Corps is giving Dr. Stedman's discovery "exhaustive tests." One dental corps officer says if found successful it will be one of the great discoveries of the day.

"There is no other disease in the world today as prevalent as tooth decay," the officer said.

DOES "IMPOSSIBLE"

Dr. Stedman, who came to Canada from England and graduated from the University of British Columbia, makes a habit of finding ways of doing the near-impossible.

He's the same physical chemistry expert who recently discovered for N.R.C. a waxlike rain-repellent substance for use by aircraft during rainstorms.

Dr. Stedman tried his cavity-stopping discovery on himself seven years ago. The paste, he says, closely resembles the composition of the tooth itself.

EVEN SCAR GOES

He inserted the paste into a cavity about four times a day. Most of it is washed away by saliva, but apparently some of it remains in the cavity and helps nature rebuild the tooth.

After three months' time, Dr. Stedman stopped using the paste and lo and behold, the cavity is no longer there. Only a trace of a scar remains and this, he adds, disappears in three or four years.

"I haven't tried the paste on anybody else," he says, "but I've turned it over to the Council to use as it wishes."

Miss Long, who is making her first appearance in Canada, is a lovely and talented new singer.

When only six Miss Long started playing the piano by ear and at 16 was awarded a two-year scholarship at the Peabody Conservatory of Music. She studied voice with Frank Bibb and opera under Ernest Lert and made her professional debut in Baltimore while still studying at Peabody when she sang the leading role of Letitia in the premiere of Menotti's opera "The Old Maid and the Thief." As a result she won the Thomas Award for the "best all round performance of the year" at Peabody.

Later she appeared with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra under Reginald Stewart. During the war she entertained members of the Armed Forces at camps, hospitals and naval training stations. With the end of the war she resumed her vocal studies under Fabri.

Margit Borge, Harvey Roth Wed in Evening Ceremony

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Donald McNeil, at Glad Tidings Tabernacle at 8 p.m. July 30, Margit Borge, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Borge, 826 North Park, became the bride of Harvey Milton Roth, second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Roth, 1418 Cook Street in a pretty ceremony. Rev. A. J. Schindel performed the nuptial ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli flanked the alter while satin lover's knots marked the pews. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Domey and during the signing of the register Miss Carol Richards sang "O Perfect Love."

Traditionally gowned in white satin, the bride's train-length veil of French illusion net was caught to her head by a matching headdress. The dark-haired bride carried a bouquet of deep red roses, striking against her full-skirted gown which featured panels of French lace. A simple round neckline set off the groom's gift of a string of pearls.

Maid of honor, Miss Thelma Brailsford was gowned in blue taffeta while Miss Mary Borge, bridesmaid chose mauve sheer. Both attendants wore matching headdresses and carried colonial bouquets of carnations and sweet peas. Ester Borge, flower girl, wore pink and carried a floral bouquet.

Mr. Clifford Salmond was groomsman while ushers were Mr. Norman Roth and Mrs. Carl Borge.

A reception was held at Terry's Rose Room where a three-tier cake centred the bride's table. Mr. Frank Stanley proposed the toast to the bride. As her traveling costume the bride chose a pink gabardine suit with white and black accessories and gardenia corsage.

Following a honeymoon at White Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Roth will make their home at New Westminster.

Paris Show Features Capes, Flying Panels

By FLORENCE MILLS

PARIS, Aug. 5 (AP).—Capes, flying panels and box jackets of varied lengths made their entrance yesterday when three leading French designers displayed their Fall fashions.

Piguet accentuated the slimness of his tubular skirts by using brief straight-cut box jackets, furlined or stiffened to make them stand away from the body.

Earlier Maggy Rouff featured knuckle-length jackets flared at the back and with moderate sized collars.

Piguet, in contrast, featured pointed collars that stand up straight to higher-than-ear level. He uses them on loose flowing topcoats and capes. His capes come anything from elbow to three-quarter length and are often heavily trimmed with fur.

He introduced a trick neckline which involves a crossover bodice that unbuttons and folds back to form two enormous lapels.

Carven, another top-flight designer also used the overskirt theme for dresses, topcoats and even gabardine raincoats.

Most designers so far have shown hip-hugging peblums for their jackets but Piguet makes them fluted or bulbous.

The fluted peblum of a black velvet suit was underlaid with white ermine and the sleeves slashed to reveal the same trim.

All three designers use a lot of wool plaid for suits and dresses.

Schiaparelli Features Red, Midnight Blue in Fashions

By FLORENCE MILLS

PARIS, Aug. 5 (AP).—Schiaparelli today showed half her Fall fashions in an unfinished state, probably because of the seamstresses' strike, just ended. Despite difficulties, she managed to reflect her love of the fantastic.

Her 1949 Fall fashion parade typifies her art of splashing color on dresses and headgear. She uses large hand-painted velvet beech leaves as decorations and fancy buttons which look like dried figs.

WIDE LAPELS

Schiaparelli features wide lapels that reach to waist level at both front and back of dresses and suits. She dabbles with all types of overskirts and sets wide pockets beneath the level of jacket hems.

Sleeves on cocktail and evening wear are brief. She introduces a collar on a burgundy velvet calf-length dress. It is wide and bias-cut and forms a halter around the neck, travelling under the arms to finish at hip level in the back.

Schiaparelli uses rough English tweeds for voluminous three-quarter-length jackets. One has huge pouch pockets set at the back with the head of a rabbit poking out one of them. The matching skirt is straight cut and is built up to reach nearly to the bust.

On her day dresses, she pulls the fullness to the back, leaving the front straight. Such shades as red and midnight blue are used.

At most of the tables West became declarer at four or five spades, and lost only one spade trick and one diamond, thus scoring 650 points.

One East-West pair had a chance for a clear-"top" when the bidding at their table went:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	3 ♦
Pass	4 ♦	4 ♠	5 ♦
5 ♠	Pass	Pass	6 ♦
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the club king and shifted quickly to the seven of hearts. East collected three heart tricks, and on the third round West signalled with the nine of spades. East, however, apparently could see no great hurry about leading spades; he reasoned that declarer could not get rid of his spades on anything in dummy, and so, East blithely returned his top club.

It was an opportunity that the expert declarer did not waste! Ruffing East's club return, he went to dummy with a trump and ruffed still another club, leaving the lone club seven in dummy. He then cashed every trump. When the last one was laid down, South's hand was reduced to the queen-ten of spades. West, who still had to discard, held the king-jack of spades and the club ace, while dummy had the ace-three of spades and the seven of clubs.

Obviously, West was fixed! If he gave up his last club, dummy's seven would become good, so West naturally chose to blank his spade king. That, however, did not disturb South! He discarded dummy's club, then led the spade ten. Dummy's ace neatly decapitated West's king, and the spade queen was perfectly good.

By collecting only 500 points instead of 700, this East-West pair received a zero on the board.

AN INTERRUPTED SLEEP

In a Flash the Gobblers Were Wide Awake and in the Air

Have you ever seen a common, ordinary, everyday cat trying to creep unseen to the foot of a tree on a lower branch of which a young bird was sitting? If so, you know just about how Yowler the Bob Cat looked as he stole toward the queer-looking tree he had discovered in the Green Forest. Keeping where the Black Shadows were blackest, he crept forward with his stomach almost touching the ground. It didn't quite touch, lest it rustle the dry leaves on the ground, but it was just as near to touching—without quite doing it—as possible. His head was thrown back so that he could keep his eyes, his fierce gleaming yellow eyes, fixed on those dark masses in that tree showing so plainly against the light of Mistress Moon. His big, padded feet were put down so carefully that not a sound did they make.

Yowler wasn't sure that those dark masses in the tree were anything in which he might be interested, but he intended to find out. Long ago he learned that it often pays to examine things which appear strange. It is the surest way of gaining knowledge. But it must be done very, very carefully. It must be done in a way which will avoid the possibility of danger. So this was why he was creeping so cautiously toward that tree.

He was quite under the tree and still he had not found out what those black masses over his head were. He crouched flat and glared up trying to make out what they were. Then one and presently another stirred uneasily. Two or three crowded together and a faint "Quit, quit," sounded as one moved along a wee bit to avoid being crowded.

A glad light, the light of understanding, flared up in Yowler's fierce yellow eyes. He had stumbled on the roosting-place of the Gobbler family! Each one of those big, black masses was a Gobbler!

Yowler's mouth watered and his short stubby tail twitched with longing and eagerness, but for a few minutes he kept perfectly still waiting for the Gobblers to get over their uneasiness. At the same time, he was studying what was best to do. As soon as he was quite sure that all the Gobblers were once more sound asleep, he crept to the foot of the tree. The nearest Gobblers were on a branch about half-way up. There were four of them huddled close together, their heads under their wings. They were quite well out on the branch, and it bent a little under their weight.

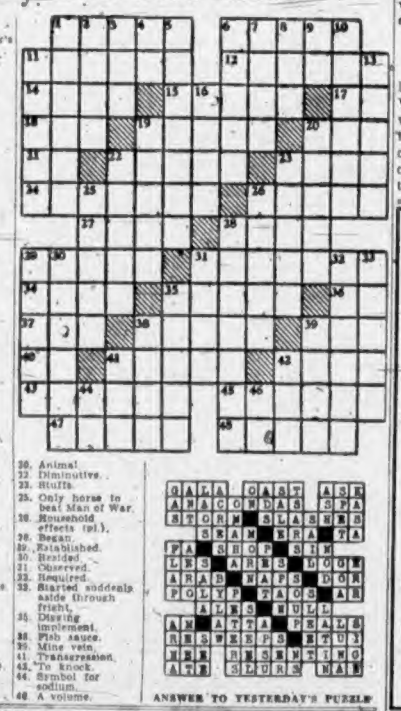

Yowler crept around to the opposite side of the tree and set his sharp claws in the bark. Carefully, so as to make no noise, he climbed until he was opposite the branch on which the four Gobblers were asleep. One of them stirred. Yowler held his breath and kept behind the trunk of the tree. When all was once more quiet, he crawled around and began to creep out on that branch. He moved an inch at a time. He was within springing distance now, but this was no place for a jump. It would mean a fall for which he had no liking. He must creep out and seize his victim.

Inch by inch he crept out. The branch bent under his added weight. Without warning there was a sharp crack and the branch sagged sharply. In a flash the Gobblers were wide awake and in the air, while Yowler was left clinging to the broken branch in helpless rage and disappointment.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Rotary Clubs Increasing By One a Day

One new club every 24 hours for a year!

That tells how rapidly Rotary International is growing.

Today there are more than 330,000 members in a total of 6,800 clubs throughout 64 countries of the world.

These impressive figures were presented by Percy Scurrah in an address to the Victoria Rotary Club Thursday at the Empress Hotel. He [illegible] international convention held in New York City. More than 15,000 delegates attended, and there were 64 nations represented. The sessions were held at Madison Square Garden.

SET CONVENTIONS

International conventions of 1950 and 1951 will be held at Detroit and Mexico City, respectively, he said.

Each year, for the next three years, Mr. Scurrah said, Rotary International will make available $250,000 toward scholarships which will enable students of Rotary countries to study for one year in a nation other than their own. When this scholarship scheme was adopted by the great organization in 1947, 11 university students were sent to other countries to study. There were 37 last year, and this year 57 university students will benefit under the plan.

A total of $315,000 was voluntarily subscribed by Rotary Club members of the world last year for this scholarship undertaking.

More Vehicles Used in B.C.

A total of 186,737 motor vehicles were operating under British Columbia registration at the end of June, an increase of 22,138 over the same period last year.

Passenger vehicles accounted for an increase of 15,865, and commercial vehicles increased by 6,283.

There were 265,416 drivers' licences issued up to the end of June compared with 241,999 up to the same date last year.

EDMONTON (CP).—Lemons grown in his own home by George Evasiw outdo Florida or California. Mr. Evasiw reported picking one lemon the size of a small grapefruit which weighed one pound.

Without warning there was a sharp crack and the branch sagged sharply. In a flash the Gobblers were wide awake and in the air, while Yowler was left clinging to the broken branch in helpless rage and disappointment.

Common Basis For Brief Still Sought

School and municipal representatives meeting yesterday in Vancouver to seek a common ground on which to press for more Government aid in financing education found themselves still unable to frame a brief for presentation to the Premier and the Provincial Cabinet, Mayor George declared yesterday.

Mayor George convened the meeting as chairman of a special joint committee of representatives of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, the British Columbia School Trustees' Association and the British Columbia Teachers' Federation.

The mayor said representatives dealt further with the implications of the Cameron report on education.

Another meeting of the committee will be held during September, he advised.

"The co-operation between the three groups is going to make history," stated Mayor George. "We have already made good progress on working out a common basis of approach."

TO VISIT U.S.

Next Wednesday will be Port Angeles day for approximately 50 members of the local Rotary Club, who will visit that Olympic Peninsula city to hold their annual joint luncheon meeting with members of the Port Angeles Rotary Club.

Tom McConnell, secretary of the city club, reports local members will leave here at 9:15 a.m. aboard the Black Ball Ferry Line's Chinook. The Victoria party will return here at 5:15 p.m. the same day. Geoffrey Edgelow is chairman of the local club's inter-city committee.

Members of the Port Angeles club will pay a return visit later on, and will probably be here sometime early in September.

At the Theatres

FOX THEATRE "3" Wives are thunderstruck when they receive a letter from a town "Belle" that she is running away with one of their husbands. Each wife assumes it could be hers, after admitting good reasons for the occasion; and they get their answer at the Country Club dance —on the screen at the Fox.

CAPITOL THEATRE Acclaimed as even bet-[illegible] 20th Century Fox's new outdoor dramatization of Will James, "Sand" is now at the Capitol. Co-starred are Mark Stevens, Colleen Grey and Rory Calhoun.

ROYAL THEATRE Joan Crawford in "Flamingo Road" is starred as a carnival dancer who goes up the social ladder to riches. The story is told against a background of corrupt politics. Also starred with Miss Crawford are newcomer David Brian and Sidney Greenstreet.

ATLAS THEATRE Outlawry takes a new twist in Republic's latest production "The Plunderers." Photographed in brilliant Tru-color, the film boasts an all-star cast headed by Rod Cameron, Ilona Massey and Adrian Booth.

OAK BAY THEATRE In her new co-starring comedy-musical with Eddie Cantor, "If You Knew Suzie," Joan Davis, wearing more than 15 changes of wardrobe, brings out a quantity of charm that she has never before brought to the screen. A fine piece of comedy.

ODEON THEATRE "Big Cat" Eagle Lions Technicolor release starring Lon McCallister and Preston Foster, bring a welcome change in big game films and proves that our own continent provides as many hunting thrills as do the more celebrated Africa, India and South America. Splendid film technique plus Technicolor makes this an outstanding film.

PLAZA THEATRE "Abies' Irish Rose" now at the Plaza stars lovely Joanne Dru, rising young V.A. starlet. Also starred are the comedy team of George E. Stone and Vera Gordon. A grand laugh-filled show for the whole family.

Pioneer Missionary Dies

Mrs. Christena Stone, 79, a pioneer missionary worker on Vancouver Island's rugged West Coast, died yesterday morning at St. Gregory Nursing Home. For the past 35 years her home had been at Port Alberni.

Born in Lakefield, Ont., the late Mrs. Stone and her late husband came to British Columbia in 1891, calling at this city before proceeding to Port Simpson, where Mr. Stone was assigned to teach Indians. In 1892 the couple entered missionary work, and with their three children went to the Naas River area, where they remained one year.

At one time, while stationed there, the entire family was threatened with death by Indians. They finally left in a canoe, traveling down the Naas River to the coast, and reached this city again in November, 1893.

The following year, the Stone family continued their missionary work with the Indians at Clo-oose, on the West Coast. For a period of two years there they never saw another white person. Later they transferred to Clayquot, remaining there from 1906 until 1914, when they moved to Port Alberni. Mrs. Stone's husband predeceased her four years ago.

Funeral services for the pioneer woman will be held at Port Alberni Monday. Sands Funeral Chapel is handling arrangements.

Nanaimo Board Studies Cards

NANAIMO, Aug. 5.—Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce is giving consideration to possibility of supplying courtesy parking cards similar to those used at Los Angeles, which the tourist committee was requested to study, and the question of supplying more information, and assistance to the many yachtsmen who visit the city.

Referred to the standing committee for action, were requests from the Canadian Arts Society and the Rheumatism Society for assistance in forming interim committees for Central Vancouver Island this month.

Nanaimo Loses Island Pioneer

NANAIMO, Aug. 5.—James Richards, who was born at Nanaimo 84 years ago, died in Nanaimo Hospital on Friday. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

He is survived by his widow, Marthr Ellen; two daughters, Mrs. William Platt, Cumberland, and Mrs. Orville Boyd, Nanaimo; one brother, Wilkinson Richards, in California, and a sister, Mrs. Mary McIvor, Port Hammond, B.C.

Funeral services will be held in the Jenkins Chapel on Monday afternoon.

Group to Hold Annual Picnic

PARKSVILLE, Aug. 5.—Parksville Community Park has been chosen as the site for the North Island District Women's Institutes annual basket picnic to be held on the afternoon of August 17.

Members of Parksville Women's Institute have operated a successful market stall opposite the Parksville Shopping Centre on Saturday mornings. Home cooking, berries, flowers and vegetables have been available, and the stall has proved popular with the Summer visitors.

Hurt in Crash At Parksville

PARKSVILLE, Aug. 5. — Mrs. Alvina Carrico was treated for shock and bruises following an accident near the Rambler Tea Room at Parksville. An automobile, driven by Mrs. Eileen Hay of Lake Cowichan, was in collision with a parked car in which Mrs. Carrico was a passenger. The parked car, owned by F. Lloyd of Parksville, received approximately $150 damage, and Mrs. Hay's automobile was damaged to the extent of about $50.

Branch Probes Pension Cases

PORT ALBERNI, Aug. 5.—Port Alberni Branch No. 169, Canadian Legion, is investigating pensions for needy veterans. The present pension is $40 per month. The Government has allowed an increase of $10 per month in needy cases. This sum would make the pension up to the old age standard of $50 per month.

To date only two cases have been investigated at Alberni out of a large number needing assistance. Inadequate investigating facilities are blamed. The matter has been referred to the branch executive for immediate action.

Stage Contest At Courtenay

PARKSVILLE, Aug. 5. — Miss Christine Kennedy of Hilliers will be Parksville Kinsmen Club candidate for the "Daisy Mae" contest to be held at Courtenay on Saturday night. Last year Miss Jaquie Harstone of Parksville won the title for the Kinsmen, and brought back the grand trophy for the club, which will be competed for again this year.

To Stand Trial

NANAIMO, Aug. 5—John Neiser was committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter, following a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts. Bail was set at $2,500. Press for School Work In Parksville District

PARKSVILLE, Aug. 5.—Eric Winch was elected school trustee by acclamation for the Parksville section of Qualicum School District No. 69, at a recent meeting held at Parksville School. Mr. Winch fills a vacancy created by the resignation of Frank McLaughlin, owing to ill health. The other trustee for this area is H. T. Butler.

A resolution was passed urging the school board to draw up a by-law to provide funds for the improvements [illegible]

Campbell River Calls Tenders

CAMPBELL RIVER, Aug. 5.—Trustees of Campbell River School District No. 72 decided to call tenders for a two-room addition to Manson's Landing School.

First Quonset hut school in the province is being constructed to order of the school board at Surge Narrows. It will contain one room with a fluorescent lighting system and special window glass at both ends. Trustees expect it will be completed by September 1.

Materials were ordered for new one-room school at Refuge Cove. Tenders will be called for a new furnace at Campbell River School and 140 desks will be ordered.

A 49-passenger bus ordered by the school board will take care of transportation of a greater number of pupils caused by extension of boundaries. Tenders will be called next week for a new school at Quadra Island.

[illegible] orations to schools in the district. Conditions in some of the small schools were termed deplorable by speakers, who demanded immediate attention in order to improve buildings in time for the Autumn term.

An appropriation for alterations and improvements had been included in the sum voted on in a money by-law for the new junior-senior high school on June 27, which was defeated. Schools to be affected were Parksville High [illegible] Coombs and Errington and Little Qualicum Schools.

PROTEST HIGH TAXES

Many of the ratepayers present voiced protests about the increase in the school tax rate of 3.75 mills. Mr. Butler explained that the increase was to cover heavy capital expenditures undertaken by the Provincial Government.

Preliminary plans for a smorgasbord supper in Parksville Community Hall were discussed, and it was suggested that a committee contact the school board to find out if it could be incorporated in the program of entertainment for the annual convention of the B.C. School Trustees' Association at Qualicum Beach.

Plan Schools At Courtenay

COURTENAY, Aug. 5.—A breakdown of figures concerning the proposed building program in Courtenay School District No. 71 has been handed to the three areas affected. September 10 has been set as the tentative date for balloting.

The program will cost $1,268,912. Of this amount, $639,456 will be raised in the school district by direct taxation.

Proportions which each area will be required to pay are based on the assessed value of the land at Courtenay, Cumberland, and the rural area, and work out to the following amounts:

Courtenay, 20.367 per cent, or $130,238; Cumberland, 3.337 per cent or $21,338.65, and the rural area, 76.296 per cent, or $487,879.35. In addition to these amounts, the three areas will be required to bear the cost of the plebiscite. Cost for Courtenay is estimated at $312, and for the rural area, $1,120.65. Figure for Cumberland is not available at present.

It is proposed to spread the cost [illegible] over 20 years. With a principal of $641,000 and interest of $269,600, this will mean a total direct tax [illegible] this bill of $910,000.

Kroesen in Final; Eliminates Fisher

San Francisco Netman Continues Fine Play In B.C. Net Meet—Plays Shoemaker for Title

The stage is set for this afternoon's final round play in the provincial tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. Under Friday's grey skies, Jim Kroesen of San Francisco reversed last week's defeat in Vancouver by turning the tables on Fred Fisher, Seattle, [illegible] ousting the first-seeded player, 11-9, 6-4, 6-3.

Both men were at their best and the match resulted in some of the finest play seen on local courts in years. Magnificent driving and sensational recoveries featured the first set while the next two were largely won on the strength of the San Francisco boy's terrific service.

LIVINGSTONE BOWS OUT

Jack Shoemaker, Los Angeles, qualified to oppose Kroesen today when he proved steadier and more severe than Jim Livingstone, San Francisco. Winning the first set, 6-2, Shoemaker dropped the second 6-4. Turning point of the match came when the Los Angeles player copped the third set, 6-4. As Livingstone weakened, Shoemaker went on to take the fourth set and the match, 6-1.

Fisher and Shoemaker combined to march into the men's doubles final in the day's best tandem match. Clyde Knox and Hugh Findlay of Portland were the victims but not before three close sets. The favored pair won out, 6-4, 8-6, 7-5. Other pair for today's final will be Livingstone and Kroesen and a closely-fought match is assured. The Livingstone-Kroesen duo won their way to the last round by eliminating Frank Sample and Billy Green, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

FAVORITE IN FINAL

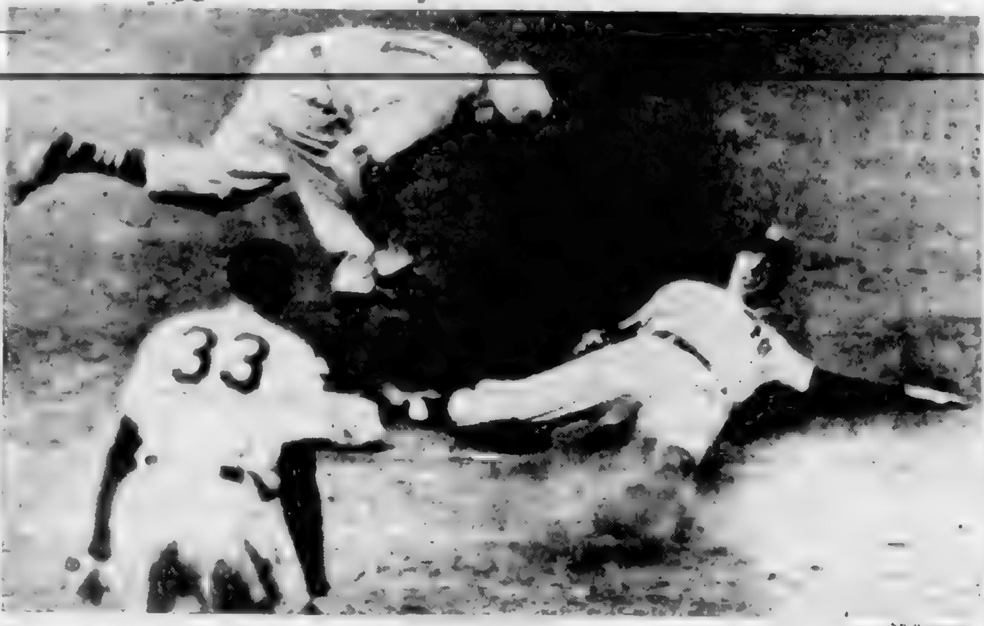

In the women's events today, top-favored Carol Deim, Santa Monica, will oppose Berkeley's Marj McCord for the singles crown. Miss McCord eliminated Jean Morgan, Victoria, in one semi-final, 6-3, 6-4. Both Miss Deim and Miss McCord will be featured in the doubles' final, the former teamed with Jean Doyle, San Diego, and the latter in combination with Seattle's Gladys Ross.

Final match on today's card will see the mixed doubles' champions named. Featured in this event will be Miss Doyle and Livingstone, who won their semi-final from Mary and Bill Green, Vancouver, 6-4, 6-4. Attempting to stop this combination will be Julie Sampson and Shoemaker, who entered the final with a 6-3, 11-9 win from Miss Deim and Sample.

DiMaggio Back Safely as Yanks Best Browns Twice

The above action took place in New York last night in second game of American League doubleheader between New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns. Joe DiMaggio is seen sliding safely back to first base after singling to left field in first inning. DiMaggio started for second base, changed his mind and just beat relay from second baseman Gerry Priddy with formful slide. First-baseman Jack Graham is seen trying to put ball on runner. Final games: Monday, Timber Service vs. Brentwood Acres; Tuesday, Chinese Students vs. Bluebird Cabs.

Chinese Students made a game effort to enhance their bid for third place in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League standings at Upper Central last night. Students rallied for three runs in the ninth inning against the champion Douglas Tire nine, but were forced to settled for an 8-8 tie when the winning run was cut down at the plate and the game was called on account of darkness.

The game will probably be replayed only if Timber Service drops its final game on Monday. Students could then capture third place with a victory over Bluebirds on Tuesday and a triumph in the replay.

USE THREE HURLERS

Tiremen used three hurlers in an attempt to halt the Chinese. Starter Charlie McKay was tagged for three runs in the third on a walk, Tom Derr's single, an error and Jimmy Chan's triple. Tiremen came back with two tallies in the fourth and Norm Martin took over the hurling duties. He gave up two runs in the fifth on a pair of walks and Gordie Chow's double and went out for a pinch-runner in the midst of a five-run Douglas Tire uprising in the seventh. Vic Dale's home run climaxed the rally.

GUNTER TAGGED

Ken Gunter was the victim of Students' attack in the ninth, giving up three runs on a walk, singles by Tom Derr and Bung Derr and Quinton Mar's double. Mar attempted to score the winning run on Chow's [illegible] but was caught at the plate after holding up at second.

Garrison upset Navy, 7-3 in the first game of the senior "B" league finals at Naden last night. Second game of the best-of-three series will be played Sunday at Work Point at 6.15 p.m.

REACH FINALS

Navy and Canadian Scottish advanced to the senior "C" league finals. The Tars took the deciding game of a best-of-three series from Post Office, 8-6, while Stan Davison pitched two-hit ball as the Scots blanked Warner's C.Y.O., 10-0, for their second straight triumph.

Esquimalt Meat Market won the Allan Cup, emblematic of Colwood and District Senior "B" League supremacy, by blanking Sooke, 6-0, to take the best-of-five series in four games.

Slate Finals Tomorrow; Halt Defaults

HALIFAX, Aug. 5 (CP).—Finals in all five events of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association will be played Sunday, tournament officials announced tonight after players threatened to turn the championships into a fiasco of defaults.

Earlier it had been announced that the finals would be played Monday. A spokesman for the players then said the majority would default because of commitments elsewhere.

The majority of contenders in the running for the five titles are non-Maritimers; several are United States players scheduled to play in a tournament starting Monday near Boston. Lorne Main of Vancouver, semi-finalist in the men's singles, is due back home for the British Columbia championships starting Monday.

The schedule here was thrown off by a 36-hour rainfall in mid-week which forced postponement of all matches for almost two days.

Davis Cup Doubles Team Upset by Maritime Pair

HALIFAX, Aug. 5 (CP). — Nova Scotia's doubles champions, Don and Gordon Bauld of Halifax, pulled the first major upset of the Canadian lawn tennis championships late today, taking the measure of Montreal's Davis Cuppers, Henri Rochon and James Macken.

A crowd of 1,200 fans, largest ever to [illegible] a tennis match in the Maritimes, went wild with glee as Gordon Bauld salted away match point on little Henri's service for the home triumph in five sets, 6-2, 4-6, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

The Baulds on their performance loomed as a threat for the doubles title for it advanced them to the semi-final round against the defending champions, Gordon MacNell and Edgar Lanthier, both of Montreal.

CHAMP OUSTS STOHLBERG

W. J. (Bill) Tully of Bronxville, N.Y., playing under wraps in early rounds, uncorked a stretch drive in defence of his singles crown that carried him into semi-finals in a breeze. Tully, captain of Notre Dame's tennis team in [illegible], whipped [illegible] Walter Stohlberg of Van[illegible] 6-1, 6-4, 6-1, to advance against Lorne Main, also of Vancouver, in the next round.

Meanwhile, Macken fought through to a hard-won five-set triumph over E. Blair Hawley of Cambridge, Mass., to enter the bottom half of the semi-final draw against Rochon. Scores were 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

FAVORITES ADVANCE

Patricia Macken of Montreal, defending women's singles champion, advanced to the semi-finals against Rhoda Joan Hopkins of Woodhaven, N.Y., disposing of another Montrealer, Mrs. Pauline Robinson, 6-3, 6-3. Miss Hopkins defeated Montreal's Mrs. R. A. Porter, 6-4, 6-4.

In the bottom bracket of the draw, Elaine Fildes of Montreal ousted Mrs. C. H. Mitchell of Sydney, N.S., 6-1, 7-5 and next meets Mrs. Baba Lewis of Jamaica Plains, Mass. Mrs. Lewis eliminated Toronto's Mrs. Louise Brown 6-0, 6-2.

In the men's doubles Main and Stohlberg [illegible] time of it vaulting past another Halifax twosome, R. Menall and P. Beadon 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. The Vancouver Stars are down in the bottom bracket of the semi-finals.

Mangrum Cards Great 64 To Lead Chicago Tourney

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (INS) — Dapper Lloyd Mangrum offered proof positive today that there was no place like home by winning the opening day's honors at Chicago's $66,200 all-American golf tournament with a magnificent sub-par 64.

The defending champion simply wandered into his own back yard at the Tam o' Shanter Country Club and clipped eight strokes off par. His amazing round over the 6,915-yard course was only one shot off the record he set last year.

HARBERT, TURNESA NEXT

Detroit's long-driving Melvin (Chick) Harbert and Jim Turnesa of Briar Cliff, N.Y., registered 66's.

A couple of amateurs and a professional without the newspaper clippings were tied at 67 with Johnny Bulla of Verona, Pa.

The amateurs were former Northwestern University golf captain John Wanger of Glencoe, Ill., and Julius Boros of West Hartford, Conn. Boros was the nation's lowest qualifier in the National Amateur last year.

Jimmy Clark of Independence, Kan., was the unheralded professional who [illegible] golfdom's top brackets.

IRON PLAY BRILLIANT

Mangrum's sterling iron play accounted for his brilliant pair of 32's. He nearly equalled his 1948 record 63 on the final hole by looping an eight-iron shot to within four feet of the cup.

The Purple Heart war veteran's attempt for a birdie-three, however, trickled past the hole. It was the only short putt he missed the whole day.

Mangrum sank a putt of 40 feet for an eagle on the 405-yard second hole. He plunked another eagle into the can on the long par-five fifteenth. A tremendous two-iron shot of over 230 yards put him in position for this eagle when his ball stopped four feet from the pin.

The cool man with the moustache and the forever-burning cigarette was over regulation figures only one hole during the entire round. He drove a shot out of bounds from the seventh tee and was forced to take a five.

Leading scores follow:

Lloyd Mangrum 64; Melvin (Chick) Harbert 66; Jim Turnesa 66; Jim Clark 67; John Bulla 67; *Julius Boros 67; *John Wagner 67; Bob Fre[illegible] 68; Freddy Haas Jr. 68; Pete Cooper 68; *A. Injury-Riddled A's Lose Doubleheader

Yakima Grabs 6-4, 4-3, Decisions—Hack, Buccola Draw Thumb in Finale

Bremerton	49	64	.43[illegible]
Salem	48	66	.4[illegible]
Tacoma	48	68	.414

A rugged schedule, sprinkled freely with doubleheaders, mainly against the W.I.L.'s first-division clubs is proving a bit too much for Victoria's injury-riddled Athletics. Playing their third twin bill in five nights and their fifth in nine, the A's bowed to the leading Yakima Bears twice last night, 6-4 and 4-3, and saw their hopes of a play-off berth take a resounding setback.

DIMS PLAY-OFF HOPES

The result, coupled with Wenatchee's win, left the Victorians six games out of fourth spot on the losing side and left them needing a win streak to pick up the difference. There will be little respite. They face Yakima again tonight and twice tomorrow before returning home Monday to tangle with Spokane and Wenatchee, no easy touches.

With the first game taking almost two and a half hours, only skimpy reports were available at press time. The second game was not completed until 1.15 this morning.

Failure at the plate in the clutch cost the first game. The A's received 13 bases on balls from two Yakima pitchers but hit into two double plays and left 12 runners stranded in the seven innings as they managed but five singles. The Bears handed Joe Blankenship his fourth setback when they put together five singles, a walk and an error for five runs in the fourth.

LOSE IN NINTH

According to reports, the finale provided some action. The A's were ahead, 3-1, on Frank Matheh's home run but were unable to break through again. The Bears finally managed to tie the count and won it in the ninth when Ted Jennings set the stage by leading off with a triple.

An argument with the umpire on a play on the bases forced Manager Earl Bolyard to complete revamp his line-up. Both John Hack, an outfielder playing at second base, and First-Baseman Vic Buccola were tossed out. Catcher Bob Day finished up at first base with one of the outfielders moving into the infield.

BIG NIGHT FOR BUD

Doggedly continuing their pursuit of the Bears, Vancouver Capilanos uncorked some heavy artillery to down Salem Senators twice, 12-6 and 9-5. Catcher Bud Sheely was the biggest gun. He unloaded for a bases-loaded home-run and three singles to drive in six runs in the first game. He came back in the seventh inning of the finale to slam out another grand-slam round-tripper which provided the victory margin. Dick Sinovic tied it up for the Caps in the third with yet another four-ply circuit smash.

At Spokane another home-run provided the victory margin. Catcher Jack Parks connected for his 21st circuit blow with two men on in the ninth to give the Indians a 6-5 triumph over Tacoma Tigers.

Wenatchee Chiefs and Bremerton Bluejackets scored 23 runs on a total of 16 hits at Wenatchee in a weird affair won by the home club, [illegible]. Each team used up six pitchers who combined to issue 32 bases on balls.

Yankees Sweep Two By Home Run Route

New York Yankees rebounded from Thursday's double setback to sweep a doubleheader from St. Louis Browns yesterday and regain a three-game margin over the second-place Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant race. The Yanks [illegible] the homer route in both games in blasting the Browns, 10-2 and 10-5, while the Indians edged Philadelphia Athletics, 3-2.

JOE KEEPS PROMISE

On Thursday, Joe DiMaggio visited the hospital bed of 10-year-old Michael Rosenthal, who had just undergone his third major operation in 24 days, and promised to "hit a home run for you tomorrow." The Clipper delivered in the fourth inning of the first game yesterday, immediately after Tommy Henrich had hammered a three-run circuit clout. A two-run four-master by Charley Keller and a grand-slam blow by Yogi Berra played a prominent part in the finale.

EXTENDS STREAK

Don DiMaggio extended his consecutive hitting streak to 22 games and Vern Stephens belted his 26th homer as Boston Red Sox blanked Detroit Tigers, 9-0.

Pitcher Mickey Haefner, fired by Clark Griffiths for an "indifferent perf[illegible]," [illegible] up a 4-1 victory over his former [illegible], the Washington Senators, but Washington Manager Joe Kuhel protested the Chicago White Sox victory over an umpire's decision on the replacement of a pitcher.

CARDS STAY AHEAD

Over in the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers won their sixth straight game by edging Cincinnati Reds, 6-4, but still trail the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals by half a game. The Redbirds blanked New York Giants, 1-0.

Philadelphia Phillies also suffered a 1-0 setback as Schoolboy Rowe was bested by Pittsburg hurler Bill Werle in a tight duel. Hank Sauer hammered his 23rd homer to pace Chicago Cubs to an 8-2 triumph over Boston Braves.

Arrival of Victoria Manager Touches Off Hockey Activity— Cougars Hope to Train Here, May Get Help From N.H.L. Club

It may seem a bit early for hockey to be sneaking into the sports headlines, but the ice sport is beginning to show signs of activity after a three-month lull. This activity became apparent in Victoria yesterday for the first time in several years with the arrival of Fred Hutchinson, general manager of the Victoria Cougars, the city entry in the professional Pacific Coast Hockey League.

FORMER BASEBALL MAN

Former business manager of the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association, Hutchinson has given up his baseball job to take over for Lester Patrick, owner of the Victoria P.C.H.L. franchise, who will continue his duties as vice-president of Madison Square Garden Corporation. Hutchinson intends to be a year-around resident and is seeking a permanent residence.

He is wasting no time in starting the vast amount of preparatory work necessary before the Cougars can take the ice as a team. Offices of the Victoria Hockey Club Ltd. will be opened at 825 Fort Street next week and sports-page readers can expect a steadily increasing amount of hockey news as the Sum[illegible].

SEEK PLAYING COACH

Interviewed last night, Patrick had little further news about the Cougars. A coach has yet to be selected and this matter is being given careful consideration. The Victoria owner stated he was considering four or five applications and that it was his desire, if possible, to sign an able playing coach.

Queried about playing strength, Patrick said he had a tentative tie-up with a National Hockey League club. He declined to state which one, but New York Rangers will continue to work with Muzz Patrick's Tacoma Rockets and Chicago Black Hawks are said to be working with New Westminster Royals. This leaves Boston, Detroit, Montreal and Toronto, with earlier rumors pointing to Canadiens as the most likely possibility.

Posing for cameraman yesterday are Lester Patrick (left) owner of Victoria Pacific Coast Hockey League franchise, and Fred Hutchinson, formerly of Minneapolis, who has been named general manager of Victoria Hockey Club Ltd. Hutchinson arrived yesterday to take up new duties and will be year-round resident.

It is likely that most of the Victoria player announcements will come when N.H.L. and American Hockey League clubs start making training camp cuts. So far, the only personnel announcements were the acquisition of Bernie Strongman and Fred Hildebrand. Strongman played with the Navy here during the war and Hildebrand is a promising youngster, better known for his lacrosse abilities.

HOPE ARENA READY

Meanwhile the biggest worry as far as Patrick and Hutchinson are concerned is the completion of the Memorial Arena in time for the opening of the Cougars' training camp, tentatively set for September 20.

"We'd like to train here because [illegible] I've talked to [illegible] to," Patrick stated, "but we are starting to worry whether or not the arena will be ready. Unless quick progress is made, we may have to make other arrangements."

He was unable to say what arrangements would be made if progress continued to be slow but stressed that plans would have to be made well in advance and that definite assurance about the Memorial Arena was needed.

CANADIEN COLORS

Perhaps lending further credence to the report that Canadiens may send some players here are the proposed Cougar uniforms. They will closely resemble those worn by the Flying Frenchmen. Shorts will be blue with red and white stripes while red will be the predominant color of the sweaters. It is hoped that the uniforms will include a suitable club insignia.

Victoria's hockey opener is just over two months away. The Cougars open the season against New Westminster Royals on the Mainland on Saturday, October 8. They will make their first home appearance on Thanksgiving Day, which is the following Monday, against the Portland Eagles. The game is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Postpone Bout, Woodcock Hurt

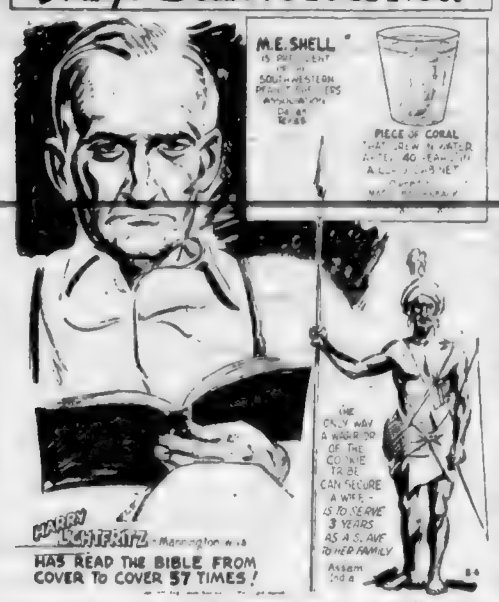

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—The Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold fight September 6 for the British version of the world heavyweight boxing title was postponed today.

Injuries Woodcock suffered yesterday in a truck accident were given as the reason.

A new date for the fight will be announced Monday.

A hospital announcement said the British heavyweight champion had a severely bruised shoulder but that there were no broken bones or internal injuries. His truck struck a tree.

Second game will be played on Monday night with the third game, if necessary, Wednesday.

"We are in top shape and the team is very confident," Team Manager Archie Heugh said today as the Hamilton squad arrived in Calgary.

"We haven't seen the North Vancouver club in action, but we still feel we'll be heading back for Hamilton next Monday night with the championship. At the same time we know we are going to be in for a tough battle."

YOUNG CLUB

In direct contrast to the North Vancouver eleven which proudly claims recognition as the oldest organized soccer club in the Dominion, the Hamilton aggregation is just two years old.

In its first season last year, the club swept through the Western section of the five-team National Soccer League without a defeat. However, they lost out to Montreal Carsteel in the Eastern Dominion soccer playdowns. The Montreal team went on to defeat Vancouver St. Andrews to take the championship.

The North Vancouver club was also reported in top shape with no injury troubles.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

When the downswing has [illegible] half completed, the left shoulder starts rising, as pictured, and at the same time a sort of up-thrust of the left hip also takes place, providing the leverage or foundation for the swing. The left shoulder up-thrust permits the right shoulder to pass down and under so that the hip and shoulder pivot, the downswing of the arms and the wrist throw, all blend into a single force at impact. If you maintain the two anchors of your swing — the head held immovable throughout the proper foot action you naturally tend to use this hip [illegible] upthrust without conscious effort. A good swing forces you to do it. But the value of my focusing your attention on the point is that you are more likely to carry it out completely and thus better your swing. If your head is held immovable then it follows as you see in the picture, that you will look after the ball in flight by turning your head under and after the ball and this is correct. You must fight the tendency to straighten your head up vertically at impact. Instead, look at the ball in flight with the head still in the rather horizontal address position. You shouldn't resume the perpendicular standing position till the follow through is fully completed and the hands are head high.

Oust Canadians In U.S. Junior Tennis Meet

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 5 (CP).—The Canadian delegation to the U.S. national junior and boys' tennis championships was totally eliminated yesterday when its last three doubles teams in second-round junior competition were defeated.

The duo of Raymond Page of Montreal and Andre de Chavigny of Quebec City fell before the seventh-seeded team of Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La., and Alan Fischl, Long Island, N.Y., 6-2, 6-4.

The twosome of Don Fontana, Toronto, and Paul Willey, Vancouver, bowed to Charles Atherton, Charleston, W. Va., and Ed Dailey, Harrisburg, Pa., 6-0, 6-0.

A last Canadian team nearly upset the form sheet when Mike [illegible] and Don MacIntosh, both of Calgary, went three nip-and-tuck sets before giving in to the favored Fred Hagist, Sacramento, Calif., and Sam Moore, Los Angeles, Calif., 6-4, 7-9, 8-6.

RED'S TRIUMPH

Port Alberni Tyee Club Season Opens Sunday; Derbies Planned

The Port Alberni Tyee Club plans a big season this year with a large number of new members expected. Many fishing Derbies are planned during the season.

The season extends from August 7 to October 9, with the main Derby Day set for October 2. Members compete in the qualifying rounds during the season to be eligible for the big Derby. The 75 fishermen catching the biggest Tyee will qualify for the grand final on Derby Day.

A special prize has been donated by the Port Boat House to create additional interest during the qualifying rounds. Weekly competitions will be be held during the season with a cash prize for the biggest fish caught each week.

THREE-DAY DERBY

The three-day open Derby has been scheduled for September 3, 4 and 5 with $400 prize money for the winning anglers. The grand prize for the largest Tyee of the three days is $250 plus cup. Further information will be announced later.

The junior Tyee Club, with members' ages ranging from eight to 16 years, is operated under the auspices of the senior club. The juniors are granted special rates on boats. Their season lasts from August 7 to September 11, with a junior main Derby on the final day.

Club buttons are awarded to members catching large Tyees. A bronze button for a fish weighing 30 to 40 pounds, a silver button for 40 to 50 pounds; and a gold button for a Tyee weighing over 50 pounds.

Special trophies awarded during the season are the Rose Bowl Trophy, donated by the Port Alberni Social Club as first prize on Derby Day, the Sun Publishing Co. perpetual cup for the largest Tyee of the season, and the Knights of Pythias Trophy for the Junior Derby Day winner.

Contestants must use regulation club tackle and all fish must be weighed in at official weighing stations on the day they are caught. No Tyee under 18 pounds will be recognized by the club.

"How many dishes must I break—before you'll buy that automatic dish washer in the Colonist Want Ads?"

Mayor Says Williams to Hold Position as Arena Chairman

Mayor George ruled yesterday that the recent resignation of Alderman Edward Williams from the public works committee did not affect his status as chairman of the Memorial Arena section of the same committee.

"I feel that Alderman Williams' desire to just be relieved of the public works part of that committee is in order," the mayor stated.

DROPS ONE POST

He explained that Alderman Williams had requested resignation only from the public works section of the all-embracing public works, arena and harbor committee. At the beginning of this year some 18 or 20 standing committees were combined into six groups. Each of the groups is required to handle the work formerly carried on by three separate committees.

"Any alderman accepting a position on a committee containing three or four inter-related committees has a right, in my opinion, to resign from any particular section and still serve on the others," said Mayor George. "Alderman Williams' request is to resign from the public works part of that large committee."

WANTS TO CONTINUE

Alderman Williams has informed the mayor that he does not wish to resign as chairman of the arena committee. He made it clear that when he tendered his resignation from the public works committee this week he meant only to retire from active participation in public works matters.

B.C. Third For Tourists

Number of tourist cars entering British Columbia during June showed an increase of 7,203 over the same period last year, Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, Minister of Trade and Industry, reported yesterday.

Total number of cars entering on traveller's vehicle permits was 26,691.

It was encouraging to note that the volume of traffic for the first six months of this year exceeded by 47 cars the same period for 1947, which was hailed as an all-time tourist peak, said Mr. Eyres.

British Columbia holds third place among the provinces of Canada for tourist traffic, Mr. Eyres said, with Ontario and Quebec, closer to the dense population areas of the United States, running ahead.

Move to End Illegal Fishing

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 5 (AP).—The Oregon State Fish Commission took steps today to put an end to illegal fishing in the Columbia River.

This was done by defining the term "driftnet" as a gillnet that drifts with the tide or current at all times.

Until now, such nets could be used at the mouths of streams tributary to the Columbia or placed in the river itself in such a way as to make it virtually impossible for salmon and other commercial fish to escape to spawning grounds.

Columbia River commercial fishermen agreed with the Commission that a weekly closure during the Autumn salmon season is necessary to permit more fish to reach spawning grounds.

The Commission proposes a weekly closure of 48 hours.

A weekly closure of 72 hours is enforced on British Columbia's Fraser River salmon grounds.

Toledo Hurler Fashions No-Hit Shutout

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 5 (AP).—Walter Nothe, 31-year-old lefthander, tonight hurled a no-hit no-run victory as Toledo defeated Minneapolis 2-0 in the first game of an American Association double-header.

Nothe not only held Minneapolis hitless for the required seven innings but also for an extra frame for his battery mate, Catcher Eddie Mordarski, settled the issue with a two-run homer in the last of the eighth.

Nothe walked seven but no other Millers reached base, and only three of these advanced as far as second.

Champ, Cerdan In Return Bout

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP).—Jake Lamotta of New York will defend his middleweight title against Marcel Cerdan of France September 28 at the Polo Grounds, the International Boxing Club announced today.

Lamotta won the championship from Cerdan on a knockout last June 16 at Detroit.

Button Match

Jim Merriman and Bob Fleming of Gorge Vale, holders of both the city senior and junior golf buttons, will defend the senior buttons tomorrow against the challenge of Gordon Verley and Tony Thistle of Uplands. The match will be played at Gorge Vale, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Merriman and Fleming successfully defended the junior buttons last Sunday against the challenge of L. Carroll and Pudge Fanthrope.

Swedes Establish New Relay Record

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 5 (AP).—Sweden's Gaevle Athletic Club bettered the four-mile relay world record tonight in a Swedish-United States track and field meet at the Olympic Stadium.

The time was 16 minutes, 42.8 seconds. The listed world mark is 17 minutes 2.8 seconds by another Stockholm team in 1941.

Golf Meet Set Back

Uplands Golf Club yesterday announced that the men's "B" class tournament for the Francis Trophy has been set back one week to Sunday, August 14. Entries should be made at the pro shop.

Makes Public Letter Protesting Fee

Dr. Ronald M. Grant, official of the Victoria branch of the Association of Naturopathic Physicians of British Columbia, yesterday made public a letter to City Council in which his organization protested the recently-authorized trades licence fee increases.

In his letter, Dr. Grant stated that while naturopathic physicians were taxed on the same basis as members of the Medical Association they did not receive the same privileges. He disclosed naturopathic physicians, who are registered physicians, did not receive compensation for the care of city relief cases; were not permitted the use of such facilities as hospital laboratories and surgeries. He stated services of the Victorian Order of Nurses had not been extended to prescriptions of naturopathic physicians.

BULK OF INCOME

"The use of these services constitutes to a very large extent the bulk of income of the medical practitioner," advised Dr. Grant. "Whereas the income of the naturopathic physician is necessarily derived solely from, and limited to, office practice.

"Inasmuch as these services receive large annual grants, derived from taxation, from the City of Victoria, it is felt that this request for equal privileges through equal taxation is only just and fair, or that, in lieu of the extension of these services to naturopathic physicians, a more equitable trades licence fee be established."

Council, in reply to earlier protests, has stated that it was unable to revise the recently-imposed trades licence schedule.

Desert Love Song

By VIDA HURST

CHAPTER XXIX

Drusilla's greeting was cold. She hated Margie and didn't care who knew it but it was Margie's car in which the three of them were riding. Philip sat in front with her, while Dru shared the back seat with Margie's luggage. There was no attempt at conversation. The desert was hot and dusty. Even the saguaros looked dejected, yet Margie was not sorry that she had returned. This was where she wanted to be and if Phil objected to her living at the ranch she would find some place else. So far as Drusilla was concerned, there was room for both of them.

Blanche Tait's welcome was warm enough to make up for Phil's lack of cordiality and the two Indian servants greeted her with shy smiles.

"We've missed you," Blanche said kissing her. "Isn't that so, Phil?"

"Right," he agreed, but his eyes still evaded Margie's. "Shall I take these bags to your bedroom, Margie?"

"Unless you would rather have the other room now," Blanche suggested. "The one your father used is larger."

Margie shook her head. She preferred the smaller room because the row of tamarisk trees was visible from its windows, so she said, "I'd like the one I had before if you don't care."

"Not in the last. You may have anything you like, do as you like. I know you're tired and anxious to unpack and have a bath. Or would you rather have some tea?"

"Tea, please! Is it too warm to sit in the patio?"

"Not if we stay in the shade. We'll have the tea iced today. With cucumber sandwiches in your honor and chocolate brownies for Phil."

Margie sighed with relief. Nothing was any different except Phil's attitude but maybe he was worried about something which had no connection with her. He did not accept his mother's invitation to have tea, saying he didn't have time which was undoubtedly true. And since he wasn't there Drusilla did not join them, although Blanche asked her when she came through the patio. Drusilla went into the kitchen and a few moments later heated words came from that direction.

Blanche said, "She is the only person I have ever known the maids to dislike. I wish Phil would ask her to leave but he says he's sorry for her."

"Do you think that's all there is to it?" Margie asked frankly.

"I thought so until recently. Oh, I know she was pursuing him but Phil was being kind to her. I'm used to having him bring home people who need help just as he rescued homeless animals when he was a little boy. But lately there seems to be something triumphant about Drusilla."

"She was probably glad I had gone back to Chicago. It's obvious she resents my return."

"Well, there's nothing she can do about that. You're my guest."

Margie sipped the cold tea thoughtfully, then she said, "I'm not sure Phil wants me here either."

"Phil is delighted," his mother said positively. "I've never seen him as happy as he was when you were here before."

"He isn't happy about it this time. I can't stay here if Phil doesn't want me. It's his home and it wouldn't be fair."

"It's my home, too, you know. It was his idea in the first place, before I mentioned it to you."

Margie wished she could tell Blanche what had been said the night her father died but felt that was Phil's privilege. Blanche was his mother and since he had not confided in her Margie had no right to tell her.

"Promise me one thing," Margie pleaded. "If you think my presence disturbs Phil in any way you'll tell me."

"Of course," Blanche promised readily. "He may not spend as much time with you as he did before. He is busier since one of our cowhands left a week ago. Then, too, he has been seeing more of Drusilla since you went away. I hoped it was because he missed you. It's so wonderful to have you back. The only drawback to living so far from Tucson is that I miss my old friends and the contacts I could make if we were closer to town."

"I was thinking about that on the way down here," Margie admitted. "Why couldn't we establish the custom of serving a 12 o'clock Sunday breakfast for your old friends and any stray celebrities who happen to be around?" The newspaper people would know who was available and once we got them in the habit it would be sort of the thing to do. Having Sunday breakfast with Blanche Tait," Margie finished smiling.

Children Enjoy Big Day As Oak Bay Playgrounds Close

Colonist Photos

Playground activities in Oak Bay wound up yesterday morning with picnics and games and lots of fun for hundreds of youngsters for whom the programs have been held daily since early in July. A portion of the 200 children who have been attending the Willows Park playground sessions is seen in the picture at left. That little mountain of little people is all part of a game involving the finding and putting on of shoes. Oak Bay Kiwanis Club donated ice cream and other refreshments for the children. At Lafayette Street playground, big, friendly dog known only as "Mutt" was about as unhappy as the children there that the playground program was ending. He is seen in the photograph at right with three of his new friends. Left to right, they are: Lesley Scott, 3, 2259 Central Avenue; Alec Kay, 573 Monterey Avenue, and Carol Sidwell, 518 Hampshire Road.

Overcrowding Curtails City Library

The Victoria Public Library is being literally crowded out of its present building.

Following a meeting of the board yesterday, announcement was made that a number of books, periodicals and Government pamphlets "not in constant use" would be moved next week to two rooms in the Market Building to provide more space in the library proper.

Further pointing up crowded conditions was a decision to reduce the size of the library's fiction department to allow for an enlargement to the cataloguing office.

BUDGET EXCEEDED

With half of the current year gone by, the board has spent 59 per cent of its annual budget, it was announced at the meeting.

Up to July 31, $51,929.20 had been expended, the report stated.

Largest item was $31,692.14 for wages. Purchase of approximately 3,000 new volumes for library shelves cost another $8,316.

Reject Request For Increase

Request for five cents an hour wage increase for employees of 32 Vancouver firms was turned down in the majority report of a conciliation board, the Labor Relations Board announced yesterday.

The unions now receive a basic wage of $1.60 an hour for journeymen, but an escalator clause based on the cost of living brings the present wage schedule to $1.70.

They wanted abandonment of the escalator clause and a basic wage of $1.75 an hour for journeymen.

Coast Clamdiggers Enjoying Big Year

Marine News

It's a good year for clams.

This was shown yesterday in the half-year figures of sea-fisheries landings in Canada, which totaled 469,403,000 pounds against 545,740,000 in the first six months of 1948, a 14-per-cent drop despite the efforts of the tasty crustacean.

Decreases in the landing quantity and value were recorded for both coasts in most every species but clams were hauled up in greater numbers.

In British Columbia, landings were only 174,170,000 pounds for all species compared with 216,574,000 in the corresponding period of last year but clam landings for the six months totaled 2,462,000 pounds against 564,000 in the first half of 1948.

LANDINGS DOWN

On the East Coast, landings of all fish products amounted to 295,233,000 pounds against 329,166,000 last year, a 10.3 per cent drop. But clams and quahaugs showed a neat increase to 8,733,000 pounds compared with 5,374,000 in the first six months of 1948.

This meant that Canadian gourmets should find more clams on the shelf of grocery stores this year. Almost half the greatly-increased Pacific Coast catch is being canned.

Noted primarily for its silence in many parts of Canada, the clam is hailed by sea-food lovers as just the thing for a chowder or stew. Seasoned sea-fooders are fond of steamed clams, or will relish the tangy shellfish raw, on the half-shell, like oysters.

Clams brought $287,000 to Canadian fishermen in the first half of the year, or $153,000 more than last year.

OVER-ALL PICTURE

The over-all picture wasn't so rosy. The Atlantic catch for the half-year was worth only $13,700,000, compared with $15,062,000 and the Pacific take was worth $6,251,000 against $6,644,000 in the same period of last year.

The decreased catch meant $1,755,000 less to the Canadian fishing industry, so far this year. But the Bureau of Statistics report on landings had a hopeful tone. For one thing, the British Columbia salmon industry was just getting into season when the report was compiled.

BLOW UP MINE

Details of the first mine demolition on the B.C. coast for the past several months, were made public yesterday by an official of the Federal Fisheries Department at Vancouver. It is believed the unit was of Japanese origin.

The fisheries official, J. Fielden, reported he learned of the mine from an Indian crew member of a fishboat. As a result, he searched an area about Banks Island, Queen Charlotte Sound, and on July 6 he found the mine and exploded it with rifle fire.

The mine, he said, was at the extreme high water mark. It was battered and its "horns" were broken off. There were seven bullet marks found on it, and it is believed the mine was the one which crew members of the hydrographic survey ship William J. Stewart tried to explode July 1.

TO PAINT VESSELS

The former C.P.R. vessel, Princess Adelaide, recently purchased by a Greek shipping firm, will be taken to Esquimalt drydock for hull painting below the water line, it was announced yesterday by H. S. Hammill, general manager at Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. The Adelaide will be followed shortly after by the Princess Alice, also acquired by the Greek firm.

HAWAII-BOUND

A large shipment of Canadian food is being rushed to the strike-torn Hawaiian Islands.

The food is being dispatched on the 10,000-ton freighter Ss. Tahsis, the first relief vessel to sail for Hawaii from Vancouver, since the C.I.O. Longshoremen's Union called their strike 97 days ago.

The Tahsis will carry cereals, potatoes, powdered milk, corned beef, canned goods, and other food items.

GOOD TUNA FISHING

The best tuna fishing of the season off British Columbia's west coast was reported yesterday by the Fisheries patrol vessel, Kitimat, in waters 95 miles southwest of Cape Flattery.

Trollers caught between 100 and 400 of the elusive fish yesterday, and fishermen report many of the tuna were unusually large.

ICEBREAKER DAMAGED

The Navy icebreaker Burton Island limped toward Point Barrow, Alaska, yesterday without its starboard propeller and part of its shaft as the Coast Guard cutter Northwind raced to its aid, the Coast Guard said.

The Burton Island is with the Navy's supply mission to its vast petroleum reserve and other Government agencies on the Arctic shores.

The icebreaker gave its position as 60 miles east of Point Barrow. A brief message from the Burton Island gave no details of the mishap.

BIG PROGRAM

The Canadian Government's plans to maintain and develop a Canadian shipbuilding industry will involve the expenditure of $60,000,000 over the next five years, Hon. Lionel Chevrier said yesterday at the launching of the lighthouse tender Edward Cornwallis at Montreal.

The Transport Minister said $30,000,000 of that amount already had been allocated. It included the cost of the 1,800-ton Cornwallis, $1,800,000.

HEAD NORTH!

"Head north as long as you find tuna."

Those are the orders under which the 100-foot United States fish and wildlife service exploratory vessel Oregon will sail into the North Pacific Monday.

The vessel is expected to be out at least two and a half months. During that time it will test new types of tuna gear and supply daily radio reports on tuna conditions for commercial fishermen.

NEW DEVICES

A new destroyer fitted with "revolutionary" labor saving devices for the crew, is to be launched August 10, the British Admiralty announced. It said the devices are a major departure from the Navy's "scrubbing" tradition. The destroyer has electric vacuum cleaners, electrically driven flairs for chipping paint and electric washing machines and potato peelers.

CREW TO SAIL HOME

The heroic Royal Navy sloop Amethyst will return to the United Kingdom in a month.

The Admiralty said the crew had been given the option of flying home or manning the ship. They elected to sail.

The Amethyst was a hostage on the Yangtze from mid-April until last week-end when it escaped from Communist shore guns. It lost 18 crew members in the April fighting on the river.

SITUATION IMPROVED

A brighter situation in the commercial salmon fishing of British Columbia has resulted from recent heavy catches of the species over the past week according to a report from the Chief Supervisor of Fisheries.

The salmon pack total to date this season is more than 267,844 cases, which compares with 355,697 cases at the same time last year. The current total represents a major increase over that of a week ago.

Catches of sockeye have been heavy over the past week or ten days, and the pack of that species alone totals 141,056 cases.

C.B.R.E. Plans Protest On Recent Certification

Protests by the C.C.L. Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees against recent certification of the A.F.L. Teamsters' Union for a group of former C.B.R.E. members at Nanaimo will be considered at a meeting of the Labor Relations Board Tuesday, a board official said yesterday.

The hearing follows charges by Robert Smeal, national C.B.R.E. representative in Victoria, that the Board had assisted the Teamsters' Union to raid "a C.C.L. union and break a current union shop contract."

Concerned are 16 men employed by Schofield Malpass Ltd. at Nanaimo.

MAY SEEK INJUNCTION

Mr. Smeal said he was considering applying for a Supreme Court injunction to cancel the Board's certification of the A.F.L. union.

The Teamsters' Union had been certified without a vote being taken at the plant, he said, and despite the fact that the current C.B.R.E. contract with the firm contained the irrevocable check-off of union dues and did not expire until October 1 of this year.

He charged also that the Board had accepted the Teamsters' application although none of the men affected had paid dues into the A.F.L. union.

PROTESTED EARLY

Mr. Smeal said he had protested the application in June but had not been notified to appear before the labor board.

"At that time, our contract had run only eight months.

"Past precedent has always been that in a contested certification, a vote is held.

"This was not done in this case."

The holding of a vote, "although it may be resorted to, is not done in most cases of this kind," and is not required by provincial labor legislation, according to a Labor Relations Board official.

Hazard Mounts For Interior

Mounting fire hazard in the Interior of the province brought the total number of fires to 39, the British Columbia Forest Service reported yesterday.

Thirty-five men are fighting an eight-acre fire near Rossland, and another 26 men are battling a blaze at Phoenix.

Highly hazardous conditions were reported in the Nelson district, but elsewhere cool, moist weather has kept the hazard down.

Only two fires were reported in the Vancouver forest district, both were small blazes near Nanaimo.

U.S. Firm Takes Over Elevator

The United States grain company, Kerr Gifford and Co., Inc., took over operation of the city's Ogden Point grain elevator as scheduled on August 1, Alderman Duncan McTavish, chairman of the lands committee, disclosed yesterday.

Earlier this year Alderman McTavish negotiated the lease of the 1,000,000-bushel elevator to the Portland, Ore., company. Under terms of the lease the company will pay the city $12,000 and hold the elevator for a one-year period.

TO STORE GRAIN

Intention of the company is to store United States grain here under bond for export, Alderman McTavish stated.

"The possibility as I see it is that the elevator will be used for the storage of corn," he declared.

He said that a representative of Kerr Gifford and Company would go to Washington to confer with government officials there as to the type of grain it is desired to store in the elevator.

To Practice Here

Delay Post Office Work For Further Safeguards

Demolition of buildings on the Government Street site of the new Post Office building was halted temporarily yesterday by City Building Inspector J. W. Oesterink because public safeguards had not been erected around the buildings.

Mr. Oesterink's action was strongly supported by Mayor George.

"I feel the building inspector's department has done exactly what it should do," declared the mayor. "I'm very sorry that we have to impede in any way the Post Office work, but we must protect the people. The city will not let the work go on until all by-laws have been complied with."

AWAIT BOARDING

Mr. Oesterink stated earlier this week that he would not issue a demolition permit until a sidewalk boarding had been erected around doomed Government Street buildings by Northern Construction Co., Vancouver, who hold the contract for erecting the new Post Office.

The demolition contract has been sub-let to Cameron Wrecking Co., Vancouver.

SOME MINOR WORK

Mr. Oesterink has permitted minor interior demolition work to be carried out this week. He issued his "stop work" order yesterday when it was reported that demolition crews had begun to remove roof sections and cut telephone wires above the unprotected section of Government Street.

Northern Construction Company has taken out a permit to erect the sidewalk boarding. It was learned yesterday that crews would begin its erection on Monday.

"Little Art Galleries" In Homes Urged Here

A suggestion that citizens start "little art galleries" of their own was put forward by commercial photographer Ken McAllister in an address to the Lions Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Such a collection need not be elaborate or expensive, the speaker suggested, but it would tend to create an interest, a fascination and an appreciation toward art generally. Such a collection, he added, would also be of considerable educational value.

GET TO KNOW ART

"There are very few people today," Mr. McAllister continued, "who do not have the opportunity of being patrons of the arts." The first step in this direction, he suggested, would be getting acquainted with various forms of art.

In this regard, it was pointed out, photography is playing an important role. There have been many photographs taken that could be defined as fine art, he said.

Although lacking in other respects, Mexico has become known as one of the leading art and cultural centre of the Western Hemisphere. There, the speaker noted, all students were given full access to all art galleries, museums and other such establishments.

He painted a verbal picture of the artists' plight today, claiming the majority were not wanted, and generally regarded as "outcasts." "Today they are muddled and in confusion."

The good artist must devote all his time to his work. But most of them are not given the opportunity to do this . . . "after all, they have to eat too."

Group of Boys Blamed for Fires

A group of boys is believed responsible for setting a number of grass and bush fires at Clover Point during the past few days.

Thursday afternoon city firemen extinguished a small fire just east of the entrance to the point. All told, four fires are thought by firemen to have been deliberately set.

The department has asked city police to keep check on the area.

Volcanic Island Rising At Scene of Catastrophe

BANDUNG, Java, Aug. 5 (AP).—Krakatau, the island volcano that blew itself out of the water in 1883 and killed 36,000 persons, left more behind than a fearful memory.

A new volcanic island is rising from the same spot in the Java Sea between Sumatra and Java. This monster offspring is called Anak (child of) Krakatau. Like its mother, it is a bad actor rumbling and bleching clouds of sulphurous vapor.

SCIENTISTS WATCHING

But is it a menace that will result in another catastrophe for Indonesia? Scientists keeping watch over it think not—at least for the present.

Recent tests of material spewed out by Anak Krakatau showed the 10-year-old volcano probably is at the beginning of a new eruption cycle. This "favors the conclusion" that present activity is remote from a major outburst, a government survey cautiously points out.

Anak Krakatau is but one of 149 volcanic centres in the East Indies. Official reports show the others have taken 130,000 lives since 1800.

The man responsible for keeping an eye on the troublesome mountains of the Indies is a 58-year-old Russian, formerly a colonel in the Czar's Cossacks, W. A. Petroeschevsky, who heads the Government volcanological survey for the Dutch.

SKELETON STAFF

He and a skeleton staff of nine keep tab of a string of mountains that stretch in a 3,000-mile arc to form the backbone of the East Indies Archipelago. Since funds for the work are skimpy, only one peak is equipped with a seismograph to record earth tremors and a "tilt meter" to measure swelling of its crater walls. Checking the activity of others means flying over them by plane or cutting through jungles and climbing by foot to the craters' edges. Petroeschevsky has scaled 11 volcanos and observed 30 others from the air in the last two months.

The most recent disaster of great magnitude was the eruption in 1930 of Merapi in Central Java. A glowing cloud of hot gases spilled suddenly from the crater, seared the countryside for miles and killed 1,300.

BUTTSBURY, Essex, England (CP).—The smallest parish church in Essex here—it seats 40—was reconsecrated recently after being closed since 1940 through bomb damage.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"OFF AGAIN, ON AGAIN FINNIGIN."

"Here today and gone tomorrow" is the usual connotation of the slang saying, "Off again, on again Finnigin," or "Off again, on again, gone again Finnigin." The words are used as a characterization of one of whose presence you can never be sure, whose whereabouts at any given time is likely to be problematical. In this sense the life has come to be used as an adjective, descriptive of the person referred to as an "off again, on again Finnigin."

The expression is an Americanism, not, as one of our readers suggests it might be, one of our adoptions from the Emerald Isle. It had its source in a verse written by the American publicist Strickland W. Gillilan, who achieved success as a writer of verses such as "The Reading Mother," "Watch Yourself Go By," and "Finnigan to Flannigan." It is in the last, "Finnigan to Flannigan," that the lines occur which made "Off Again, on again Finnigan" a popular saying:

"Bilin' down his report, wux Finnigin!
An' he writted thills here: 'Musther Flannigan:
Off agin, on agin,
Gone agin.—Finnigin.'"

Of course the words can be used as they appeal to anyone's imagination. For example, you might refer to someone as "off again, on again Finnigin" in allusion to a laconic quality, such as that evidenced by Finnigin in the verse in which his message to Flannigan took such terse form! But as a saying in common speech the expression seems more often to deal with one whose whereabouts are unpredictable.
